Clues Sifted By Police In 3 Murders

Chicago Officers To Question Three In Slaying Of Women

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP) — Police sifted through three possible clues today in the search for leads to to the brutal slaying of three socially prominent women.

But Supt. William Morris of the Illinois state police said, "we haven't got anything definite." He added police would question two or three men in connection with the fatal bludgeoning of the women in Starved Rock State Park. He declined to identify them.

Morris said that several tufts of hair found in the hand of one of the victims, Mrs. Lillian Oetting, 50, were sent to the state police laboratory in Springfield for microscopic examination. Morris declined to say whether the hair might have been torn from the slayer's head in a death struggle.

Also sent to the police lab were slivers of bark removed from Mrs. Oetting's skull. Technicians were to compare the bits of bark with a gnarled three-foot long tree limb found alongside the women's bodies at the closed end of picturesque St. Louis Canyon. The tree limb was blood-smeared and authorities said it could have been used in the bludgeon-slaying of the women.

A search group found the bodies of Mrs. Oetting, whose husband, George, is an Illinois Bell Telephone Co. executive; Mrs. Frances Murphy, 47, wife of Robbert Murphy, a vice president of Borg-Warner Corp., and Mrs. Mildred Lindquist, 50, wife of Robert Lindquist, a Harris Trust & Savings Bank executive, Wednesday. Police established the women were slain early Monday afternoon.

A roll of 35 m.m. camera film yielded three color transparencies. State's Atty. Harland Warren said the photos produced new leads in the case but he did not allow newsmen to inspect the photos. He also declined to comment on how they might figure in the case. The camera, owned by one of the victims, was retrieved near the entrance to the cave.

It was learned that all three photos were taken of the women posing in the park.

Will Probe Possibility Of Sabotage

Mighty Explosions Preceded Crackup Of Airliner In Indiana

TELL CITY, Ind. (AP)—Mighty explosions in the air and on the ground Thursday shattered a Northwest Airlines turboprop plane and killed all 63 persons aboard.

The FBI dispatched its disaster investigating team from Washington to see whether federal law had been violated in the crash through sabotage or otherwise.

The plane went down in a half-acre farm field—one of the few level places in rugged hills along the Ohio River, which separates Indiana and Kentucky.

"I heard the explosion after it hit the ground," said a farmer, Cyril Powers. "The concussion nearly knocked me down."

Said another farmer, Theodore Wilson: "The explosion on the ground shook my house. Parts of the fuselage, mail, bodies and debris of all kinds were scattered over the area."

Little was left of the Electra, its passengers and crew.

There was a smoking hole—25 feet deep and 40 feet across—in the snow-covered field.

Five miles away lay a burned wing and two engines.

Shreds of clothing and baggage clung to bare tree limbs.

"We haven't really found anything that you could count a body," said State Trooper Louis Gayer.

The dead included:

R. L. Oare, 47, of South Bend, Ind., board chairman of Associates Investment Co., the parent firm of Associates Loan Co., with small loan offices all over the United States and Canada.

Oare was also board chairman of Emmco Insurance Corp. and vice chairman of the Associate Board of Lay Trustees of the University of Notre Dame.

Sgt. Joe L'Brien of the Indiana State Police said the plane was heard from over Scotland, Ind., about 60 air miles from the crash scene. He said the pilot reported no trouble. The plane went down at approximately 4:20 p. m. Eastern Standard Time.

West Powers Urge Troops, Arms Census

Suggestion Made As First Step Toward Disarmament Treaty

GENEVA (AP)—The Western powers today proposed a worldwide census of existing armed forces and weapons as a first step toward a disarmament treaty.

French disarmament expert Jules Moch made the suggestion on behalf of the five Western delegations at another closed session of the 10-nation disarmament conference.

He said the control of any agreed disarmament measures would be an illusion without full information on the size and strength of existing armed forces.

Echoing the West's most insistent demand, Moch said adequate control and inspection to insure compliance must be an integral part of any disarmament agreement.

He declared that one of the first and most urgent tasks before the conference is to agree that an inspection system would not be regarded as an espionage operation, a charge repeatedly made by the Soviet Union.

Moch said that if control provisions in Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's plan for disarmament over a four-year period were really sincere, they may indicate a first step toward East-West understanding on this subject.

From Moscow, however, Prav-

Council Will Discuss Weirton Chief Vacancy

WEIRTON — Mayor David T. Frew will meet with City Council tonight at 7:30 to discuss the appointment of a police chief to succeed Charles H. Padden.

Padden has resigned to return to his former job in the Industrial Relations Department of Weirton Steel Co. He served as police chief since last July 1 when Mayor Frew took office.

Fourth Major Snow Appears To Be Dying

By The Associated Press

Snow ended in most of the storm-swept sections in the eastern half of the country today and heavy rains tapered off in drenched areas of central Florida.

The fourth major snowstorm of the month, which hit wide areas from the Plains to Virginia, appeared dying out. Only light snow fell in northern New England and snow flurries were reported in the Great Lakes region and upper Ohio Valley.

In Florida, thunderstorms rumbled from the water-soaked central section east and southeast toward the lower East Coast area. Tornadic winds were reported earlier in the south end of Edgemont Key, at the entrance to Tampa Bay, and at Yankeetown, about 70 miles north of Tampa. No injuries were reported.

Scores of families in the rain belt have been forced from their homes by flood waters. Rainfall in Tampa in the last 24 hours was 3.33 inches and measured 2.64 in Jacksonville.

Dallas Bishop Eligible For Parole Hearing

Dallas Bishop, onetime city special officer convicted in 1958 for a burglary of the Smith & Phillips Co. store, is eligible for a hearing parole after serving a year of a 1-15 year sentence.

The Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission announced Bishop, 41, now confined at the Marion Correctional Institute, will be eligible for parole June 1.

The former Salineville handyman was one of 7 city officers and former special officers indicted in 1956 for a series of burglaries after an investigation of the police department. He was found guilty of an entering at the Washington St. furniture store and taking a portable radio later recovered at the home of a woman friend at Midland.

County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw, in a report filed with the commission when Bishop was sent to prison, recommended he not be given a parole the first year.

Cuba's Chief Military Aide In U.S. Quits

Castro Branded As Betrayer, Dictator In Red-Style Regime

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cuba's top military representative here has resigned, branding Fidel Castro a betrayer of the Cuban revolution and saying he is ruling under a Communist style dictatorship.

Lt. Cmdr. Miguel Pons fired charge after charge against the Cuban leader Thursday in an emotional speech during a closed-door Inter-American Defense Board meeting of 21 republics.

Pons called his speech a message to the people of Cuba and said they "should know once and for all that Fidelismo is a mask behind which hides International Communism." He said the real brains behind the Havana government is Maj. Ernesto Guevara, leftist head of Cuba's National Bank.

The Cuban embassy promptly called Pons, Cuban naval attache, a deserter and said his charges were "traitorous allegations." It said he had been suspected of activities contrary to the revolution "as well as of collecting money surreptitiously."

Pons' resignation came just about the time Finance Minister Rufo Lopez Frequest announced in Havana he was leaving Castro's cabinet. Many observers considered him the Castro regime's last remaining advocate of close Cuban-American cooperation.

Lopez Fresquet, 47, said he was resigning because of poor health. But it appeared his financial policies were just too moderate for Castro. His leaving seemed likely to clear more ground for Guevara policies.

Board Due To Extend Registration Hours

The Columbiana County Election Board's office on W. 6th St. will go onto a continuous 12 - hour schedule Monday through Wednesday — the last 3 days before the deadline for registration of East Liverpool voters for the May 3 primaries, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said today.

The office will be open continually from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., including the lunch and dinner hours, for the convenience of persons unable to register during regular office hours, O'Hanlon pointed out.

Registration rolls will be closed at 9 Wednesday night, a deadline fixed by a new state law. Under the law, the board will not be permitted to resume registration until 10 days after the primary.

Despite a vigorous campaign, registration so far has been only "sporadic," O'Hanlon commented. A few registrations have been recorded daily, along with a greater number of transfers — changes of address.

If any rush develops, it will be in the last day or two of registration, based on past experience, O'Hanlon commented.

Fumes Kill Couple At Imperial Motel

A couple identified tentatively as Mr. and Mrs. Willard Reed of Las Vegas, Nev., was found dead of heater fumes in the Greystone Motel on Route 30 in Imperial at 7:30 this morning.

The Carnegie Barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police said the woman was believed the former Mildred Bostic, once a resident of Imperial R. D., and that the couple apparently had been visiting in the area.

They checked into the motel Wednesday. Asphyxiation from the gas heater was blamed.

U.S. Sets Up $10 Million To Spur Exports

Hopes It Will Hike Foreign Sales By $2 To $4 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government hopes that by spending about 10 million dollars to promote exports it can increase the foreign sales of American industry another two to four billion dollars a year.

President Eisenhower announced the government-wide export promotion program Thursday, and asked the support of Congress in providing a supplemental appropriation to get the program rolling in the year starting July 1.

Undersecretary of Commerce Philip A. Ray, head of the interagency task force which is organizing the drive, told reporters the initial request probably will be only about five million dollars.

But when the campaign gains full momentum, he said, the cost may run 10 to 12 million dollars a year, largely to increase the staffs of the Commerce and Agriculture departments and to more than double the number of commercial attaches of American embassies.

The current rate of export shipments, Ray said, is about 18 billion dollars a year. This, if sustained, will be an increase of about 2½ billion dollars in 1960 over the total foreign sales for 1959.

It is hoped, Ray said, that the promotion effort will provide an additional 10 to 20 per cent increase in annual sales, thereby adding roughly two to four billion dollars a year to the nation's foreign trade volume.

Imports are expected to increase also, Ray said, but at a slower rate. The net result should be a significant decrease in the size of the deficit in international payments, which amounted to $3,700,000,000 last year.

IBOP Group Will Continue Fight On Hall

A rank-and-file referendum committee "will fight through to the end" its move for a vote of the trade on plans to build a $337,000 headquarters building for the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

Frank Duffy, chairman, made that announcement Thursday night after his committee met at City Hall to consider its next steps in the light of the IBOP Executive Board's announcement last week that it has approved bids for the new structure, to be erected on Route 7 near Beaver Local High School.

At the same time, the IBOP announced the Executive Board had ruled out 6 of the 11 resolutions submitted by local unions, asking a referendum on the building program. Resolutions from at least eight locals are required to force a referendum, the IBOP said.

The IBOP said the Executive Board ruled out six of the resolutions because they were not accompanied by a list of the signatures of the members who voted on the question.

Duffy charged in last night's meeting that the Executive Board did not follow the Constitution in ruling out the six resolutions. The requirement that a list of the voters' signatures must accompany the election returns applies only to voting on international officers, not to action on a local union's resolution, he charged.

"We are determied to get our rights under the union Constitution," Duffy declared.

No definite steps were decided upon, but an investigating committee was appointed and a progress report will be submitted at another meeting next Thursday night at 7:30 at City Hall.

Snow May Be Flying When Spring Arrives

There may be snow in the air when spring arrives officially Sunday at 9:43 a. m., along with a chilly reception.

The five - day forecast of the Ohio Weather Bureau said temperature will be 8 to 10 degrees below normal and there will be light snow or flurries Saturday or Sunday and again Monday or Tuesday.

Temperatures were relatively mild today, however, but the low range tonight will be 20 to 25. Tomorrow will continue cold.

Clearing skies Thursday night caused temperatures to drop to 20 at Zanesville, 23 at Columbus, 22 at Chesapeake and 25 in downtown East Liverpool.

Young Driver Suffers Only Laceration In Crash On St. Clair

An 18-year-old Maplewood youth escaped with minor injuries late Thursday afternoon when the truck he was driving struck a moving auto and a parked car on St. Clair Ave., then leaped across the sidewalk and damaged two homes before coming to a halt on the brink of a steep embankment leading to Daisy Alley.

Gerald Lee Grimm of Carolina Ave. was treated at City Hospital for a laceration of the right thigh after the spectacular crash, which cut traffic to one lane on St. Clair until the wreckage was cleared away.

Police said Grimm's southbound truck hit a northbound sedan driven by Mrs. Cathelyn Turner, 38, of Briar Ln., who was attempting a left turn off St. Clair onto Prospect St., then continued downgrade and struck a parked 1957 coupe owned by Orval Schoolcraft, 804 St. Clair Ave.

Grimm's truck went over the curb and the sidewalk, hitting the porch and a corner of Schoolcraft's home, and then continued downgrade and struck the side of the home of Harold J. Benty, 752 St. Clair.

The crash broke eight windows in the Schoolcraft home, also damaging a door, studding and wooden paneling beneath the windows, officers said. The car went partial-

Its Voice High And Steady

Pioneer V Million Miles In Race Toward Sun Orbit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pioneer V passed the million-mile mark early today in its race toward an orbit around the sun. Its voice—a high steady tone like a radio time signal — came back loud and clear over that vast distance.

It was the farthest by far that mankind has sent an intelligible signal — and Pioneer is expected to keep up its flow of space data back to earth for many more millions of miles.

The passing of the million-mile mark was celebrated with appropriate ceremony at the Washington headquarters of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The time was 2 a. m. Eastern Standard; the scene, a small auditorium a block from the White House, cluttered with Klieg lights and movie cameras.

Just before the contact was established with Pioneer a rushing noise—like a great waterfall — came over the loudspeakers in the room. This was the sound of space, the radio signals of the stars. Scientists call it cosmic noise.

Then the clear, electronic tone of the satellite took over. To human ears, it sounded continuous, with only a slight interruptive blip now and then. Actually, the radio a million miles away was sending back seven different kinds of information.

Mighty Explosions Preceded Crackup Of Airliner In Indiana

TELL CITY, Ind. (AP)—Mighty explosions in the air and on the ground Thursday shattered a Northwest Airlines turboprop plane and killed all 63 persons aboard.

The FBI dispatched its disaster investigating team from Washington to see whether federal law had been violated in the crash through sabotage or otherwise.

The plane went down in a half-acre farm field—one of the few level places in rugged hills along the Ohio River, which separates Indiana and Kentucky.

"I heard the explosion after it hit the ground," said a farmer, Cyril Powers. "The concussion nearly knocked me down."

Said another farmer, Theodore Wilson: "The explosion on the ground shook my house. Parts of the fuselage, mail, bodies and debris of all kinds were scattered over the area."

Little was left of the Electra, its passengers and crew.

There was a smoking hole—25 feet deep and 40 feet across—in the snow-covered field.

Five miles away lay a burned wing and two engines.

Shreds of clothing and baggage clung to bare tree limbs.

"We haven't really found anything that you could count a body," said State Trooper Louis Gayer.

The dead included:

Judge John A. Sbarbaro, 70, of the Cook County (Chicago) Superior Court.

R. L. Oare, 47, of South Bend, Ind., board chairman of Associates Investment Co., the parent firm of Associates Loan Co., with small loan offices all over the United States and Canada.

Oare was also board chairman of Emmco Insurance Corp. and vice chairman of the Associate Board of Lay Trustees of the University of Notre Dame.

Sgt. Joe L'Brien of the Indiana State Police said the plane was heard from over Scotland, Ind., about 60 air miles from the crash scene. He said the pilot reported no trouble. The plane went down at approximately 4:20 p. m. Eastern Standard Time.

Its Voice High And Steady

Pioneer V Million Miles In Race Toward Sun Orbit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pioneer V passed the million-mile mark early today in its race toward an orbit around the sun. Its voice—a high steady tone like a radio time signal — came back loud and clear over that vast distance.

It was the farthest by far that mankind has sent an intelligible signal — and Pioneer is expected to keep up its flow of space data back to earth for many more millions of miles.

The passing of the million-mile mark was celebrated with appropriate ceremony at the Washington headquarters of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The time was 2 a. m. Eastern Standard; the scene, a small auditorium a block from the White House, cluttered with Klieg lights and movie cameras.

Just before the contact was established with Pioneer a rushing noise—like a great waterfall — came over the loudspeakers in the room. This was the sound of space, the radio signals of the stars. Scientists call it cosmic noise.

Then the clear, electronic tone of the satellite took over. To human ears, it sounded continuous, with only a slight interruptive blip now and then. Actually, the radio a million miles away was sending back seven different kinds of information.

With a Los Angeles NASA station giving the orders, Hawaii sent the signal to turn on the satellite's radio.

To Televise Wedding

LONDON (AP) — The wedding of Princess Margaret and Antony Armstrong-Jones May 6 will be televised live from Westminister Abbey.

4 More Days To Register

To be eligible to vote in East Liverpool at the May 3 primary election, you must register with the County Election Board at 129 W. 6th St. if:

You haven't voted at a primary, general or special election in the last two years; you've changed your name by marriage or court action; you've changed your residence since the last election; you've become 21 since the last election or will be 21 on or before Nov. 8, the general election date.

A new resident is qualified to vote after he has resided in Ohio for a year and in Columbiana County and his precinct 40 days prior to Election Day. East Liverpool is the only community in the county where voter registration is required.

W. H. Rice Named Head Of Homer Laughlin Sales

Announcement of his appointment was made today by J. M. Wells Jr., executive vice president of Laughlin's.

Rice, a 44-year-old World War II veteran with wide experience in sales and merchandising, will head both the dinnerware and commercial sales divisions.

In the past, the two divisions have been separate sales organizations — J. Donald Thompson heading the dinnerware division and William E. Pickin heading the sales of the recently established commercial division.

Thompson has been with Homer Laughlin's 30 years, going

Plane

The Federal Aviation Agency refused to disclose anything about the last radio contacts with the plane.

Witnesses first heard aerial explosions—to one the sound was like 16-inch artillery shells, to another like the noise of a shotgun—and then saw a wing break through the clouds, followed by the main body of the plane.

In the early excitement and horror, observers thought the wing was the body of a jet plane and that there had been an aerial collision.

The terrain—about halfway between Louisville, Ky., and Evansville, Ind.—is rugged. The hills are steep, like midget mountains, and heavily wooded.

State Police were ordered to help search a wide area for bodies.

Some bodies were believed buried by the impact in the snowy, muddy ground.

About an hour and a half after news of the crash came out, a person who sounded like a young boy telephoned Chicago police that a bomb had been planted on a plane at Midway Airport.

Police said they investigated and were convinced the call was a prank.

ly over the hillside before striking the Benty home, where a window and three shingles in the siding were damaged, officers said.

Grimm was driving a 1949 model truck owned by the Capitol Amusement Co. of St. Clair Ave., police said. It was written off as a total loss.

Grimm said he was driving downgrade at about 30 miles an hour when the first auto started a left turn into the side street. After the truck hit the right rear of the auto, an unidentified car pulled into Grimm's lane from a parking place on the left side of the street, he said. In swerving to avoid the unidentified car, Grimm struck the parked auto of Schoolcraft and then continued over the sidewalk, hitting the two houses, he said.

Three autos and a truck were involved in two other mishaps Thursday night and early today, police said.

A mishap on W. 5th St. near Golding St. at 5:21 this morning involved a 1959 two - door sedan driven by Ralph Arrington, 59, of 701 Washington St., Wellsville, and a 1948 model truck of the Golden Star Dairy Co., operated by Raymond Cook, 41, of 314 Blakeley St., officers said.

Both vehicles were moving west about 25 miles an hour and the auto was passing the truck, the drivers told police. Arrington said the truck swerved to the left as he passed. The truck driver said the autoist cut back too soon after passing.

A collision on Harvey Ave. at Myrtle St. at 8:05 p. m. yesterday damaged a 1957 sedan driven by Cletus Miles, 17, of 1917 Ohio Ave., and a parked 1957 sedan owned by Ernest Montgomery, 1821 Harvey Ave.

Miles told police he took his eyes off the street momentarily to adjust his car's defroster and the auto veered to the right, hitting Montgomery's car.

4 Still In Hospital After Head-On Crash

Four Toronto and Youngstown residents, hurt in a head-on collision on Route 7 near Rogers Thursday, remain hospitalized today — one of them transferred to Pittsburgh for special treatment.

Clayton Horton, 50, of Youngstown, who suffered a head injury, was transferred yesterday from City Hospital to Presbyterian Hospital at Pittsburgh.

He was a passenger in a car driven by Gene Mancuso, 30, of Youngstown which the State Highway Patrol said was rammed head-on by a car operated by John Clark, 17, of Toronto about 2 miles south of Rogers at 6:30 a. m.

Larry Anderson, 16, and Sandra Allen, 17, both of Toronto and passengers in Clark's auto, also remain in City Hospital with facial injuries. Anderson is in "fair" condition and the girl is in "fairly good" condition.

Clark, headed north and en route to a student affair at Baldwin-Wallace College at Berea, attempted to pass a tractor-trailer truck and his car hit the oncoming Mancuso auto, the Lisbon patrol reported.

Enon Valley Driver Cited For Collision

EAST PALESTINE — Glenn Grossen, 53, of Enon Valley R. D. 2 was cited for reckless operation Thursday after his car struck an oncoming auto on Route 170 about two miles north of Unity.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Grossen, trying to pass another car, skidded out of control and hit the approaching auto of James Ryan, 42, of Girard.

Orthopedic Physician Examines 22 At Clinic

Twenty-two patients were examined by Dr. W. B. Mikito of Steubenville, orthopedic specialist, at a bi-monthly clinic Wednesday in the Board of Health's office.

Sponsored by the State Welfare Department, the clinic is for orthopedic cases, cerebral palsy victims and crippled youngsters. Dr. Mikito was assisted by Mrs. Vera Lester, R.N., also of Steubenville.

Only routine business was transacted at a meeting of the health board Thursday night with Emil R. Liebschner Jr., chairman, presiding. Other board members attending were Dr. J. Keith Rugh and C. Frank Dales.

In the period from Feb. 18 to yesterday, there were 37 deaths and 96 births in the city, the board was told.

No one has ever identified the wise man who said: "Some people tell us there ain't no hell. But they never farmed, so how can they tell."

there in 1930 from the former C. C. Thompson Pottery Co.

At his request, he is being relieved of the responsibility of sales manager, but will remain active and serve as sales consultant to the company.

Wells praised Thompson for his "long and valuable service to the company" and added: "We are extremely happy he will remain active and his extensive experience in the merchandising of dinnerware will continue to be available to the company."

Pickin will continue as sales manager of the commercial division.

Rice has been associated the last two years with U. S. Glass & Chemical, which has plants at Tiffin and Glassport, Pa. From 1956 to 1958, he was national sales manager of the Castleton China Co., a division of the Shenango China Co. at New Castle. He joined Castleton after serving as special sales manager for the Elgin National Watch Co. at Elgin, Ill.

Prior to his service with the watch company, he was merchandise co-ordinator for Foote, Cone & Belding, a Chicago advertising agency.

Rice served in the Army from 1941 to 1945. He served in both the European and Pacific Theaters and was separated from service as a colonel. He was graduated in 1936 from Bowdoin College in Brunswick, Maine.

Rice is married and has two children. His family will move to the East Liverpool area as soon as the current term of school is completed.

Shippingport A-Plant To Resume After Tests

A spokesman of the Duqesne Light Co. said Thursday that refueling and replacement of the original enriched uranium core of the reactor at the Shippingport atomic power plant has been completed.

The plant was expected previously to reopen this week after refueling and other work. A definite opening date will depend upon routine tests and the amount of time to bring the plant to full power.

He said the new fuel will probably last longer than the initial charge which burned 5,806 hours at full power and had been expected to last only 2,806 hours.

The initial charge lasted from December 1957, when the $119 million plant was opened until Nov. 2 when it shut down for refueling. Some 307,734,000 kilowatt hours of electricity was produced in the first two years of operation.

Girls State Delegates Chosen At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Sherry Elliott and Nancy Alley have been chosen to attend the annual Girls State June 18-21 at Capital University at Columbus as a result of an election of the Junior Class at the high school Thursday.

They will be sponsored by the auxiliary of American Legion Post 31 and the Rotary Club. Their parents are Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Elliott of Highland Ave. and Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Roller, 124 W. North Ave. Alternates named were Ruth Walley and Ann Rudge.

He was born April 23, 1876, in Carroll County, son of the late Joseph and Anna Ramsey Nelson, and was a member of the Bethesda Presbyterian Church at Millport for over 50 years, serving at various times as elder and trustee. He also belonged to the Pleasant Valley Grange.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Lavina Moore Nelson at the home, he is survived by two sons, Jay Nelson of Bellaire and Howard Nelson of Monaca; two brothers, Fred Nelson of Alliance and Wallace Nelson of Chicago; three sisters, Miss Dell Nelson and Miss Mary Nelson of Alliance, and Mrs. Floy Stringer of Wintersville, and four grandchildren.

Services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at the Maple Funeral Home by the Rev. Boyd Burd. Burial will be in the church cemetery. Friends may call tonight and Saturday afternoon and evening at the funeral home here.

Plane

The Federal Aviation Agency refused to disclose anything about the last radio contacts with the plane.

Witnesses first heard aerial explosions—to one the sound was like 16-inch artillery shells, to another like the noise of a shotgun—and then saw a wing break through the clouds, followed by the main body of the plane.

In the early excitement and horror, observers thought the wing was the body of a jet plane and that there had been an aerial collision.

The terrain—about halfway between Louisville, Ky., and Evansville, Ind.—is rugged. The hills are steep, like midget mountains, and heavily wooded.

State Police were ordered to help search a wide area for bodies.

Some bodies were believed buried by the impact in the snowy, muddy ground.

About an hour and a half after news of the crash came out, a person who sounded like a young boy telephoned Chicago police that a bomb had been planted on a plane at Midway Airport.

Police said they investigated and were convinced the call was a prank.

ly over the hillside before striking the Benty home, where a window and three shingles in the siding were damaged, officers said.

Grimm was driving a 1949 model truck owned by the Capitol Amusement Co. of St. Clair Ave., police said. It was written off as a total loss.

Grimm said he was driving downgrade at about 30 miles an hour when the first auto started a left turn into the side street. After the truck hit the right rear of the auto, an unidentified car pulled into Grimm's lane from a parking place on the left side of the street, he said. In swerving to avoid the unidentified car, Grimm struck the parked auto of Schoolcraft and then continued over the sidewalk, hitting the two houses, he said.

Three autos and a truck were involved in two other mishaps Thursday night and early today, police said.

A mishap on W. 5th St. near Golding St. at 5:21 this morning involved a 1959 two - door sedan driven by Ralph Arrington, 59, of 701 Washington St., Wellsville, and a 1948 model truck of the Golden Star Dairy Co., operated by Raymond Cook, 41, of 314 Blakeley St., officers said.

Both vehicles were moving west about 25 miles an hour and the auto was passing the truck, the drivers told police. Arrington said the truck swerved to the left as he passed. The truck driver said the autoist cut back too soon after passing.

A collision on Harvey Ave. at Myrtle St. at 8:05 p. m. yesterday damaged a 1957 sedan driven by Cletus Miles, 17, of 1917 Ohio Ave., and a parked 1957 sedan owned by Ernest Montgomery, 1821 Harvey Ave.

Miles told police he took his eyes off the street momentarily to adjust his car's defroster and the auto veered to the right, hitting Montgomery's car.

4 Still In Hospital After Head-On Crash

Four Toronto and Youngstown residents, hurt in a head-on collision on Route 7 near Rogers Thursday, remain hospitalized today — one of them transferred to Pittsburgh for special treatment.

Clayton Horton, 50, of Youngstown, who suffered a head injury, was transferred yesterday from City Hospital to Presbyterian Hospital at Pittsburgh.

He was a passenger in a car driven by Gene Mancuso, 30, of Youngstown which the State Highway Patrol said was rammed head-on by a car operated by John Clark, 17, of Toronto about 2 miles south of Rogers at 6:30 a. m.

Larry Anderson, 16, and Sandra Allen, 17, both of Toronto and passengers in Clark's auto, also remain in City Hospital with facial injuries. Anderson is in "fair" condition and the girl is in "fairly good" condition.

Clark, headed north and en route to a student affair at Baldwin-Wallace College at Berea, attempted to pass a tractor-trailer truck and his car hit the oncoming Mancuso auto, the Lisbon patrol reported.

Enon Valley Driver Cited For Collision

EAST PALESTINE — Glenn Grossen, 53, of Enon Valley R. D. 2 was cited for reckless operation Thursday after his car struck an oncoming auto on Route 170 about two miles north of Unity.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Grossen, trying to pass another car, skidded out of control and hit the approaching auto of James Ryan, 42, of Girard.

Orthopedic Physician Examines 22 At Clinic

Twenty-two patients were examined by Dr. W. B. Mikito of Steubenville, orthopedic specialist, at a bi-monthly clinic Wednesday in the Board of Health's office.

Sponsored by the State Welfare Department, the clinic is for orthopedic cases, cerebral palsy victims and crippled youngsters. Dr. Mikito was assisted by Mrs. Vera Lester, R.N., also of Steubenville.

Only routine business was transacted at a meeting of the health board Thursday night with Emil R. Liebschner Jr., chairman, presiding. Other board members attending were Dr. J. Keith Rugh and C. Frank Dales.

In the period from Feb. 18 to yesterday, there were 37 deaths and 96 births in the city, the board was told.

At his request, he is being relieved of the responsibility of sales manager, but will remain active and serve as sales consultant to the company.

Wells praised Thompson for his "long and valuable service to the company" and added: "We are extremely happy he will remain active and his extensive experience in the merchandising of dinnerware will continue to be available to the company."

Pickin will continue as sales manager of the commercial division.

Rice has been associated the last two years with U. S. Glass & Chemical, which has plants at Tiffin and Glassport, Pa. From 1956 to 1958, he was national sales manager of the Castleton China Co., a division of the Shenango China Co. at New Castle. He joined Castleton after serving as special sales manager for the Elgin National Watch Co. at Elgin, Ill.

Prior to his service with the watch company, he was merchandise co-ordinator for Foote, Cone & Belding, a Chicago advertising agency.

Rice served in the Army from 1941 to 1945. He served in both the European and Pacific Theaters and was separated from service as a colonel. He was graduated in 1936 from Bowdoin College in Brunswick, Maine.

Rice is married and has two children. His family will move to the East Liverpool area as soon as the current term of school is completed.

Shippingport A-Plant To Resume After Tests

A spokesman of the Duqesne Light Co. said Thursday that refueling and replacement of the original enriched uranium core of the reactor at the Shippingport atomic power plant has been completed.

The plant was expected previously to reopen this week after refueling and other work. A definite opening date will depend upon routine tests and the amount of time to bring the plant to full power.

He said the new fuel will probably last longer than the initial charge which burned 5,806 hours at full power and had been expected to last only 2,806 hours.

The initial charge lasted from December 1957, when the $119 million plant was opened until Nov. 2 when it shut down for refueling. Some 307,734,000 kilowatt hours of electricity was produced in the first two years of operation.

Girls State Delegates Chosen At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Sherry Elliott and Nancy Alley have been chosen to attend the annual Girls State June 18-21 at Capital University at Columbus as a result of an election of the Junior Class at the high school Thursday.

They will be sponsored by the auxiliary of American Legion Post 31 and the Rotary Club. Their parents are Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Elliott of Highland Ave. and Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Roller, 124 W. North Ave. Alternates named were Ruth Walley and Ann Rudge.

Barry Goldwater's Hard Line

There isn't an American alive who hasn't been tempted to believe what Sen. Barry Goldwater wants Vice President Nixon to believe — that the way to handle the tiresome business about the Soviet Union is to tell Stalin, Khrushchev, or whoever is running the Kremlin, to like it or lump it.

The Arizonan thinks the United States should break off diplomatic relations with Russia, to start with. Then it should read the riot act to the authoritatians who run the Russian government and go whole hog into the brinksmanship the late John Foster Dulles used to talk about.

This might mean war, Goldwater admits but it would clear the air. And if it did mean war, the United States could make the war happen on its own terms; it would not have to wait until an assailant sprang from a bush and attacked it. It would get off the defensive and on the offensive. Instead of reacting it would take the initiative and strike the first blow. It would quit counterpunching.

The temptation to do this is universal.

It is the potentially easy way out of all nagging situations that threaten to wear down the nerves with ceaseless erosion of aggravations, insults and worries.

"Call a halt and strike out with both fists," urge the advisers with a penchant for getting things over with in a hurry.

"You don't have to put up with this tommyrot, you know," remonstrate the good friends who may be putting up with far worse tommyrot themselves.

AND THUS it goes. The violent showdown is a manifestation of man's natural nature. It is the violent upheaval of the volcano, the tidal wave, the earthquake, the storm in the microcosm of man's potential of violence.

Magnified by masses of manpower and high explosives, ranging upward to the thermonuclear blast of the atom age, its potential can be magnified by a factor of millions. But it cannot settle anything.

The "hard line" of men who believe as Sen. Goldwater believes has its uses in situations where the danger of head-on collision between two hard lines do not exist. Sen. Goldwater was elected to his present term in Congress after taking a "hard line" against labor unions in Arizona and this caused him to be lionized by people inclined to the same belief. But the same line elsewhere might have led to less happy results for the people and Sen. Goldwater. Arizona is not the world.

Goldwater is a Republican; he is hoping to capture Nixon for the hard-line extremists of the Republican party. That seems likely to be the key issue of the 1960 campaign — the hard liners of both parties vs. the moderationists of both parties — the extremists lined up against the middle-of-the-roaders— the men of action vs. the men of reason — the punch-it-outers vs. the talk-it-outers.

PERHAPS THE Soviet Union and the other members of the Communist conspiracy, being half nihilists, will destroy the free world and themselves.

That is the chance men must take in an age of reason. They cannot have it both ways. They cannot live in the world and destroy it, too. They cannot have both war and the absence of war that is called peace, for lack of a better name.

Richard Nixon is a man of reason. His Democratic opponent in the presidential election will be a man of reason, too.

The Goldwater doctrine has been tempting since long before Cain slew Abel, and was not without fault for making poor Cain feel like a fool.

But it is not standard practice — not yet. And it will not be adopted as U.S. doctrine.

Hoffa Must Do It Or Bust

There were fewer people than had been hoped for last Monday night at the International Brotherhood of Teamsters rally in Madison Square Garden.

But the congressional politicians watching Teamsters president James R. Hoffa this year the way mice watch a cat noted there were more than 8,000. It hadn't been the biggest union labor rally of the century, the decade or even of the year, necessarily. But 8,000 people can't be shrugged off.

They gave Hoffa chance to speak his piece in New York City. It is the same piece he is speaking wherever an audience can be gathered. His avowed aim is to punish congressmen who voted for the Landrum-Griffin Act. He regarded his federal law as the unpardonable affront of his public career.

He thinks of it as the outgrowth of the investigation of his union by the Senate Rackets Committee and holds special rancor for the committee's chairman, Sen. John McClellan. Only slightly less than McClellan does he despise Sen. John Kennedy and the senator's brother, Robert, who was the committee counsel.

John Kennedy and his backers for presidential nomination are high on a list of culprits whose existence Hoffa denies but which has been described in detail by Earl Mazo of the New York Herald Tribune. Detailed strategy for getting rid of all the people on the list is discussed, Mazo reports.

Naturally, they will want to know what is afoot against them. Just as naturally, they will fight for their political lives. If they are not defeated, they never will be afraid of the political power of James R. Hoffa again. In many congressional districts and in some states, that would bring a political upheaval.

It is an election that will be going inside an election in 1960—and for some candidates it will be more important than the official election, itself. If the Hoffa strategy fails, many politicians will be convinced of something that exists only in the rumor stage so far. The pendulum that once carried Congress so far toward domination by labor unions that observers began to talk about a labor government has reached the peak of its arc and is sweeping back.

Space Age: Domestic Division

A citizen with a sense of proportion must work overtime to strike a balance between the space age of satellites shot into the orbit of Venus and the space age of traffic congestion in American cities.

Eventually, there will be a story about a missileer's being unable to show up for a flight into space because he could not get his car through a traffic jam on earth. But it is not in the cards that this ever will start a political uproar about a space lag, though space is at a premium here and exists in unlimited amounts a million miles out. Politicians prefer remote talking points.

American Automobile Assn. has begun belatedly to cry out against the impulse of some politicians to get rid of the space problem for automobiles by devious proposals for getting rid of the automobiles, themselves. This is the net effect of every suggestion to force people to use mass transportation by clamping down unreasonably on parking. It is the ultimate effect of proposals to divert revenue from ever-higher taxes on auto usage to railroads and other forms of transportation.

AAA contends the automobile is here to stay, a contention that has been disputed since the first ones began to frighten horses and other competing forms of transportation. It believes public officials should concentrate on taking care of it, instead of running off on wild goose chases to change popular habits.

It argues, in other and plainer words, that the only reasonable thing to do about automobiles is to make space for them, not penalize people for using them. The customers is always right, even in public policy.

Public jobholders are not drawing their pay to dream up ways of getting rid of automobiles but to find ways to keep them from getting jammed up unnecessarily.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Scientists are now agreed that Mickey Mantle and Pioneer V got off the "pad" and made flights of similar speed. Mickey got into orbit around St. Petersburg in victory over gravitational forces, Texas magnetic fields and the terrific pull of pride and stubbornness. The flight was successful in all stages, the Yankee satellite keeping its course as charted between the planets No-Cut and Give-In.

Signals were immediately reported from the Bronx Observatory. The Weiss Scientific Tower was able to track Mickey most of the way, although it had no instruments for determining the pay load.

Prof. Casey Stengel, the only scientist functioning in short pants, baseball cap and cleats, insisted he heard beep-beep signals immediately after the Yankee satellite got into its assigned trajectory.

He decoded the signals as "Relax" followed by a firm "Will take cut" and finally the message, "Instrumentation includes fountain pen. See that George Weiss is similarly equipped."

Baseball fans everywhere broke out astronomical charts to study distance between the planets "Front Office" and "Obstinacy," and "Compromise." Allowances had to be made for gravitational pull from "Bowling Alley."

Although the course seemed to be north by northeast, there were fears it might veer toward Cleveland, St. Louis or Kansas City, due to sun spots, outer space trade winds and the strong pull of business, sentimentality and center field.

Since Mickey and Pioneer V left the pad at the same moment, there was confusion, leading to a report Mantle was 25 million miles away from the sun and similar distance from George Weiss, while Pioneer V was heading straight for St. Petersburg baseball camp, not to study outer space but to play center field through scientific instrumentation.

Everything turned out okay. Mickey made the Yanks. Pioneer V made Cape Canaveral All-Stars.

THE LATE HOWARD GOULD left 64 million dollars of which 50 million will be taken for income taxes. We are in a period when heirs to an estate can cry, "He left me so much money, I won't get anything."

Current threat of heckled husbands to their wives, "One hundred words more out of you and I'll demand CLOTURE."

New York's newest bridge will be named after Giovanni Verranzano, explorer. Suspension bridges now get suspension names. The public will never call it the Giovanni Verranzano. It probably will say the "Vera" for short.

The Tea Council of United States Inc., has received patent for machine to "make tea like grandma used to make." Grannie put tea leaves into a heated pot, poured boiling water on them and let the tea "cook a while." It could be pretty black, but you knew it was tea. The Tea Bag Federation had better stage a counterattack.

What Are The Wild Waves Saying?

Steel Feud Ends At Hotel Meeting

By Victor Riesel

That fellow lounging in the lobby of Park Avenue Park Lane Hotel last Friday was not a spy. It was I—eager to get a firsthand account of the end of a feud which shook the nation, its President and perhaps the world.

Victor Riesel

At 5 p.m. some men of steel met there in Suite 10C. These rooms are in the name of L.B. Worthington. He is president of the U.S. Steel Corp.

He was host at an unreported 120-minute private coffee hour to steel labor's chief, David McDonald, and friend Phil Regan and U.S. Steel's chairman of the board, Roger Blough and its vice president, R. Heath Larry. It was the summit.

Had both sides met as socially and talked as warmly last spring there might not have been a 116-day steel strike. That's conjecture.

As a result of last Friday's gathering—which marked the end of the isolation booth era in steel—there may not be national stoppages in any national industry. This, too, is conjecture.

THE HOPE is that the warmth of men's friendship can appeal to their reason and that deeper friendship will be nurtured by a similar series of sociable summits. For years these men had not met.

For years this had set the fashion in non-fraternization right on down the line. There had been little mixing of lower echelon company executives at the small award dinners and chicken and peas goodbyes to old workers leaving the heat of the blast furnaces for the retirement in the sun after 35 or 40 years of steelmaking.

Last Friday, Roger Blough, whom the steel labor leaders had blasted with many a verbal attack as public opponent No. 1, was all set for his trip around the world. But for two hours he and McDonald talked of future meetings.

They have another 28 months to go on the contract. But in that time they could get to know each other as past men of steel had.

There were two committees to launch. These are industrywide operations and they are important. But the men of U.S. Steel and the men of the United Steelworkers said there should be fraternization of company officials and labor men away from the formal talks.

Lest we forget, there was a steel strike and when it was settled there were two committees—the Human Relations Research Committee and a special group to study work rules.

THE FIRST will study equitable adjustment of wages and benefits; what is a fair incentive wage; what shall happen to long service employes who may be laid off; also medical care, and "such other over-all problems as the parties" want to discuss.

The Committee on Work Rules —the phrase that was heard 'round the world and now appears to be forgotten by the public—will try to get up some recommendations. This committee must report in by Nov. 30, 1960—just about eight months from now.

Since there were 10 floors between me and the conferees in their secret aerie, I can only report that labor leader McDonald went in eager to talk about his own solution for the industrial traumas which shake the land regularly with national strikes.

He would like industry's support for a permanent national labor and Industry Advisory Committee to meet with the President of the United States.

McDonald says: "The committee should be appointed by President Eisenhower to serve the dual purpose of keeping the government advised of impending labor trouble and of keeping labor and management in constant communication between negotiations."

McDonald wants a committee of 10 or 12 men who would meet with the President of the U.S. "at least every other month to discuss pressing problems."

McDonald would like "decision makers, presidents or board chairmen of national industries such as steel, coal, automobile manufacturing and the railroads," on the committee.

This may yet come. For, when the men of steel broke up at 7 o'clock they had found the other side wasn't really made up of ogres, at all.

World Hot Spot

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

At this moment the Soviet Union and the West are trying not to touch West Berlin with anything longer than a 10-foot pole. They will have to get a lot closer soon. That city is potentially the hottest spot in Europe.

It will be at the heart of the summit conference in May. No one is predicting the conference will produce a solution on the city satisfactory to both sides.

Perhaps the most that can be hoped for in the foreseeable future — say for a couple of years anyway — is a reluctance by the Soviets to push too hard in their drive to shake West Berlin out of the Allied camp.

If they do push — by trying to force the Allied troops out or shutting off the city from the West—shooting may follow. And that kind of shooting could hardly be limited to one city.

It is the belief of the Eisenhower administration that there can be no limited war in Western Europe—such as was possible in such a faraway spot as Korea—and that any war there will mean general war.

It was almost 16 months ago that Premier Nikita Khrushchev told the West to get its troops out of West Berlin which, although tied to West Germany, lies 110 miles inside Communist East Germany.

The departure of the troops no doubt would weaken the will of the West Berliners to resist the encroachments of the Communists all around them. The loss of the city would not be fatal to the West. But it would be a psychological disaster.

This week West Geramany's 84-year-old Chancellor, Konrad Adenauer, came here, talked with President Eisenhower about the stand the Allies would take on Berlin at the summit, and went away feeling reasured.

He and the President issued a joint statement that they were agreed any settlement with the Soviet Union on Berlin must preserve the freedom of the West Berliners.

But when the Allies — including Eisenhower — sit down with Khrushchev in Paris next May their firmness in standing together against damaging concessions to the Soviets will be tested.

At this moment Khrushchev—following pretty much the peaceful line he took at his Camp David meeting with Eisenhower here last fall — is quiet. But there is absolutely no indication he intends to back down on Berlin.

All the heat now being generated about Berlin may evaporate a bit —because for reasons of their own the Soviets are willing to let it evaporate — but it is unbelievable they will subside permanently.

To have the free and prosperous city of West Berlin deep in the heart of Communist Europe is like permitting a capitalistic cancer to flourish in the body of Marxism.

In short, West Berlin should continue to be both a hot spot and a sore one for years to come, even though nothing violent happens in the meantime.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Albert S. Pittinger, bank teller, was named superintendent of the Sunday School of the First Presbyterian Church.

An offer to furnish a room at the City Hospital was made to the Board of Trustees by East Liverpool Post 4 of the American Legion.

R. W. Johnson of East Liverpool was named chef de gare of Columbiana County Voiture 273, 40 and 8 Society.

TEN YEARS AGO — Mrs. Grace Burson Sisley was named president of the Newell Women's Club.

Flemington, N. J., was the scene in 1935 of the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the kidnaping-murder of the Lindbergh baby. Today it is mostly known otherwise as the location of an art pottery works.

Odd Facts

Comfort For Commies

By David Lawrence

Racial Discord Follows Red Script

Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida is known as one of the "moderates," as contrasted with the "extremists," with respect to racial strife in the South, so what he has just said in criticism of the "sit - in Demonstrations is indicative of the deep feeling that is being engendered by these episodes.

David Lawrence

The governor made a public speech on Tuesday at Lakeland, Fla. in which he said:

"Today we see white Americans and colored Americans facing each other with glowering hate, willing to set whole communities aflame, all over whether they are to be permitted to sit at the same counters in ten-cent stores. . . .

"Racial discord in America is following a Communist script, whether or not it is written from the Kremlin. I would not know about this. But, frankly, if the leaders in the Kremlin had worked up a plan to weaken us throughout the world, I can think of none which would be more effective than the script we are now following."

The Florida governor declared that the "filibuster in our great national congress is being projected before the world as a bitter controversy between Americans over whether Negro citizens are free to vote in our free elections."

THE TRUTH IS, as Sen. Talmadge of Georgia pointed out the other day, large numbers of Negroes do vote in southern states. The question of their qualifications hitherto has been a state problem.

"I think," said the governor, "If the men in the Kremlin were writing a prescription for destroying American influence, they would include discrediting American freedom and democracy by presenting us to the world as a nation torn by internal dissensions—incapable of dealing justly with one another in a spirit of mutual respect and brotherhood."

President Eisenhower came up with a good suggestion when he proposed at his press conference on Wednesday that there be "biracial conferences in every city and every community of the South," which, he said, would be much better than "trying to get up here and direct every single thing from Washington."

The President was asked if he believed that Negroes have "guaranteed rights to eat with whites at lunch counters." He replied:

"Now, my own understanding is that, when an establishment belongs to the public, opened under public charter, and so on, equal rights are involved but I am not sure that this is the case whatsoever. I was talking about demonstrations of marching in the streets or any other kind of peaceful assembly. . . .

"Now those, to my mind, as long as they are in orderly fashion, are not only constitutional but they have been recognized in our country as proper since we have been founded. Now, the different types, different ways in which resentment or defiance could be expressed, I just can't, I couldn't possibly go into all those details —I don't know."

CONSTITUTIONAL LAWYERS would add, however, that the people of Little Rock also had a right to assemble in the vicinity of Central High School in 1957 but mere fear of mob violence caused the federal government to send in troops to disperse any assembly, peaceful or otherwise.

Today Negro leaders are provoking bitter feeling in the South by "sit-in" demonstrations which, in themselves, are unlawful and a violation of the rights of private owners of restaurants.

Any organization that planned the demonstrations must have known that sooner or later the participants would be ejected and, if disorderly, would be arrested and punished. Was this a plan to provoke resentment, to publicize the disorders, and to give the communists material for their propaganda broadcasts?

Gov. Ernest F. Hollings, of South Carolina, in discussing the "sit-in" demonstrations, told a press conference this week that the Negroes "think they can violate any law, especially if they have a Bible in their hands."

He spoke of the manifestations as being "explosive by their very nature" and said that, while the protest movement was originated by students, it now has been taken over by "outside groups."

THE STATES and cities in the South have a constitutional right, of course, to arrest and punish any persons engaged in a conspiracy to invade the ten-cent store restaurants or any other private business establishments where agitations or demonstrations are conducted.

The same stores have a right to bring damage suits in the courts against any individuals who start such demonstrations for the purpose of discrediting the name and business reputation of the owners of the stores. These are "civil rights," too.

The instigators of the current commotion in the South call the agitation "passive resistance."

This was the phrase often used in describing rebellious tactics in India during the period of revolt against British rule. But against whom are the provocative demonstrations in the ten-cent stores in the South directed?

The federal government has no right to order the stores to open their lunch counters to anyone to whom they choose to deny such privileges. These are private establishments and, unlike railway stations—which are public utilities—these stores can conform, if they like, to local custom.

Do the leaders of the Negroes really believe they are advancing the cause of "law and order" by these provocative demonstrations? There certainly is need for "biracial conferences" such as President Eisenhower has suggested—and some common sense, too.

Dear Nephew: I have whiled away many happy hours trying to figure out what advertisers want me to think. But darned if the airplane business doesn't have me stumped.

I refer to the overseas branch of the business, which is bearing down so hard on yummy food and drink it is giving readers the impression they are being asked to pay a couple hundred bucks for lunch, with the trip thrown in like electric organ music at a bar.

Not being a cosmopolitan, I cannot recognize the names of the dishes they will have on tap if I ever have the urge to fly away. But I can be pretty sure it's fancier than apple pie and kraut with wienies. It's uptown bill of fare, with cloth napkins and finger bowls.

It raises the question of motive. The passengers have been prepared ahead of time to drool at the thought of all that toothsome food trundled to them by curvesome girlies after they have been plied with strong drink and bite-size goodies to whip up their appetite. But what is going on that the airplane business wants to keep out of sight and out of mind? Why the fuss over food?

I learned long ago that one of the standard twists in advertising is to brainwash the customer in a nice American way. You make him think of something pleasant, instead of having an open mind that might take note of unpleasant details. You urge him to think of all the fun he is going to have, to keep his attention off all the fun he isn't going to have.

Years ago, when the vulnerable thing about automobiles was the way the engines had outdistanced brakes, nothing ever was said about brakes. All the emphasis was on power. Now that the emphasis is on economy, which means less power, the emphasis is on brakes. Even a hick like me can spot that sort of thing.

But why are the overseas airlines making such a big noise over food? Is it just an extension of the psychology that caused airlines to pick good looking girls and dress them up so they would not resent being waitresses and barmaids and the passengers would look at the dollies instead of the way ice was forming on the wings?

Or is long-distance flying in the jet era such a routine thing that the only way to make it seem attractive is to festoon it with pate de foie gras and vintage squeezings from contended grapes?

Your aunt and I have more than a casual interest in this because we are hoping someday to fly to some of the places we'd never go on a ship because we despise the sight, smell and undulations of the ocean. But we don't want to get our livers out of whack eating over-rich vittles.

We had planned to take a shoebox lunch with us when we went, and a little jug of our well water —enough to get us off on the right foot. It is beginning to look, though, as if we'd feel foolish with our cold corn-meal muffins coated with butter, our drumsticks and slices of white meat, our eating apples and screw-lid jars of homemade potato salad.

We get the impression they might jettison our homegrown vittles to make the skies safe for the gourmets and gluttons who seemingly are replacing turkey buzzards and sea gulls.

Give our regards to one and all and please find the answer to this riddle if you can.

Barry Goldwater's Hard Line

There isn't an American alive who hasn't been tempted to believe what Sen. Barry Goldwater wants Vice President Nixon to believe — that the way to handle the tiresome business about the Soviet Union is to tell Stalin, Khrushchev, or whoever is running the Kremlin, to like it or lump it.

The Arizonan thinks the United States should break off diplomatic relations with Russia, to start with. Then it should read the riot act to the authoritatians who run the Russian government and go whole hog into the brinksmanship the late John Foster Dulles used to talk about.

This might mean war, Goldwater admits but it would clear the air. And if it did mean war, the United States could make the war happen on its own terms; it would not have to wait until an assailant sprang from a bush and attacked it. It would get off the defensive and on the offensive. Instead of reacting it would take the initiative and strike the first blow. It would quit counterpunching.

The temptation to do this is universal.

It is the potentially easy way out of all nagging situations that threaten to wear down the nerves with ceaseless erosion of aggravations, insults and worries.

"Why do you put up with it?" cries conscience.

"Call a halt and strike out with both fists," urge the advisers with a penchant for getting things over with in a hurry.

"You don't have to put up with this tommyrot, you know," remonstrate the good friends who may be putting up with far worse tommyrot themselves.

AND THUS it goes. The violent showdown is a manifestation of man's natural nature. It is the violent upheaval of the volcano, the tidal wave, the earthquake, the storm in the microcosm of man's potential of violence.

Magnified by masses of manpower and high explosives, ranging upward to the thermonuclear blast of the atom age, its potential can be magnified by a factor of millions. But it cannot settle anything.

The "hard line" of men who believe as Sen. Goldwater believes has its uses in situations where the danger of head-on collision between two hard lines do not exist. Sen. Goldwater was elected to his present term in Congress after taking a "hard line" against labor unions in Arizona and this caused him to be lionized by people inclined to the same belief. But the same line elsewhere might have led to less happy results for the people and Sen. Goldwater. Arizona is not the world.

Goldwater is a Republican; he is hoping to capture Nixon for the hard-line extremists of the Republican party. That seems likely to be the key issue of the 1960 campaign — the hard liners of both parties vs. the moderationists of both parties — the extremists lined up against the middle-of-the-roaders — the men of action vs. the men of reason — the punch-it-outers vs. the talk-it-outers.

PERHAPS THE Soviet Union and the other members of the Communist conspiracy, being half nihilists, will destroy the free world and themselves.

That is the chance men must take in an age of reason. They cannot have it both ways. They cannot live in the world and destroy it, too. They cannot have both war and the absence of war that is called peace, for lack of a better name.

Richard Nixon is a man of reason. His Democratic opponent in the presidential election will be a man of reason, too.

The Goldwater doctrine has been tempting since long before Cain slew Abel, and was not without fault for making poor Cain feel like a fool.

But it is not standard practice — not yet. And it will not be adopted as U.S. doctrine.

Hoffa Must Do It Or Bust

There were fewer people than had been hoped for last Monday night at the International Brotherhood of Teamsters rally in Madison Square Garden.

But the congressional politicians watching Teamsters president James R. Hoffa this year the way mice watch a cat noted there were more than 8,000. It hadn't been the biggest union labor rally of the century, the decade or even of the year, necessarily. But 8,000 people can't be shrugged off.

They gave Hoffa chance to speak his piece in New York City. It is the same piece he is speaking wherever an audience can be gathered. His avowed aim is to punish congressmen who voted for the Landrum-Griffin Act. He regarded his federal law as the unpardonable affront of his public career.

He thinks of it as the outgrowth of the investigation of his union by the Senate Rackets Committee and holds special rancor for the committee's chairman, Sen. John McClellan. Only slightly less than McClellan does he despise Sen. John Kennedy and the senator's brother, Robert, who was the committee counsel.

John Kennedy and his backers for presidential nomination are high on a list of culprits whose existence Hoffa denies but which has been described in detail by Earl Mazo of the New York Herald Tribune. Detailed strategy for getting rid of all the people on the list is discussed, Mazo reports.

Naturally, they will want to know what is afoot against them. Just as naturally, they will fight for their political lives. If they are not defeated, they never will be afraid of the political power of James R. Hoffa again. In many congressional districts and in some states, that would bring a political upheaval.

It is an election that will be going inside an election in 1960—and for some candidates it will be more important than the official election, itself. If the Hoffa strategy fails, many politicians will be convinced of something that exists only in the rumor stage so far: The pendulum that once carried Congress so far toward domination by labor unions that observers began to talk about a labor government has reached the peak of its arc and is sweeping back.

Space Age: Domestic Division

A citizen with a sense of proportion must work overtime to strike a balance between the space age of satellites shot into the orbit of Venus and the space age of traffic congestion in American cities.

Eventually, there will be a story about a missileer's being unable to show up for a flight into space because he could not get his car through a traffic jam on earth. But it is not in the cards that this ever will start a political uproar about a space lag, though space is at a premium here and exists in unlimited amounts a million miles out. Politicians prefer remote talking points.

American Automobile Assn. has begun belatedly to cry out against the impulse of some politicians to get rid of the space problem for automobiles by devious proposals for getting rid of the automobiles, themselves. This is the net effect of every suggestion to force people to use mass transportation by clamping down unreasonably on parking. It is the ultimate effect of proposals to divert revenue from ever-higher taxes on auto usage to railroads and other forms of transportation.

AAA contends the automobile is here to stay, a contention that has been disputed since the first ones began to frighten horses and other competing forms of transportation. It believes public officials should concentrate on taking care of it, instead of running off on wild goose chases to change popular habits.

It argues, in other and plainer words, that the only reasonable thing to do about automobiles is to make space for them, not penalize people for using them. The customers is always right, even in public policy.

Public jobholders are not drawing their pay to dream up ways of getting rid of automobiles but to find ways to keep them from getting jammed up unnecessarily.

The Once Over

Scientists are now agreed that Mickey Mantle and Pioneer V got off the "pad" and made flights of similar speed. Mickey got into orbit around St. Petersburg in victory over gravitational forces, Texas magnetic fields and the terrific pull of pride and stubbornness. The flight was successful in all stages, the Yankee satellite keeping its course as charted between the planets No-Cut and Give-In.

Signals were immediately reported from the Bronx Observatory. The Weiss Scientific Tower was able to track Mickey most of the way, although it had no instruments for determining the pay load.

Prof. Casey Stengel, the only scientist functioning in short pants, baseball cap and cleats, insisted he heard beep-beep signals immediately after the Yankee satellite got into its assigned trajectory.

He decoded the signals as "Relax" followed by a firm "Will take cut" and finally the message, "Instrumentation includes fountain pen. See that George Weiss is similarly equipped."

Baseball fans everywhere broke out astronomical charts to study distance between the planets "Front Office" and "Obstinacy," and "Compromise." Allowances had to be made for gravitational pull from "Bowling Alley."

Although the course seemed to be north by northeast, there were fears it might veer toward Cleveland, St. Louis or Kansas City, due to sun spots, outer space trade winds and the strong pull of business, sentimentality and center field.

Since Mickey and Pioneer V left the pad at the same moment, there was confusion, leading to a report Mantle was 25 million miles away from the sun and similar distance from George Weiss, while Pioneer V was heading straight for St. Petersburg baseball camp, not to study outer space but to play center field through scientific instrumentation.

Everything turned out okay. Mickey made the Yanks. Pioneer V made Cape Canaveral All-Stars.

What Are The Wild Waves Saying?

Steel Feud Ends At Hotel Meeting

By Victor Riesel

That fellow lounging in the lobby of Park Ave.s' Park Lane Hotel last Friday was not a spy. It was I—eager to get a firsthand account of the end of a feud which shook the nation, its President and perhaps the world.

Victor Riesel

At 5 p.m. some men of steel met there in Suite 10C. These rooms are in the name of L.B. Worthington. He is president of the U.S. Steel Corp.

He was host at an unreported 120-minute private coffee hour to steel labor's chief, David McDonald, and friend Phil Regan and U.S. Steel's chairman of the board, Roger Blough and its vice president, R. Heath Larry. It was the summit.

Had both sides met as socially and talked as warmly last spring there might not have been a 116-day steel strike. That's conjecture.

As a result of last Friday's gathering—which marked the end of the isolation booth era in steel—there may not be national stoppages in any national industry. This, too, is conjecture.

THE HOPE is that the warmth of men's friendship can appeal to their reason and that deeper friendship will be nurtured by a similar series of sociable summits. For years these men had not met.

For years this had set the fashion in non-fraternization right on down the line. There had been little mixing of lower echelon company executives at the small award dinners and chicken and peas goodbyes to old workers leaving the heat of the blast furnaces for the retirement in the sun after 35 or 40 years of steelmaking.

Last Friday, Roger Blough, whom the steel labor leaders had blasted with many a verbal attack as public opponent No. 1, was all set for his trip around the world. But for two hours he and McDonald talked of future meetings.

They have another 28 months to go on the contract. But in that time they could get to know each other as past men of steel had.

There were two committees to launch. These are industrywide operations and they are important. But the men of U.S. Steel and the men of the United Steelworkers said there should be fraternization of company officials and labor men away from the formal talks.

Lest we forget, there was a steel strike and when it was settled there were two committees—the Human Relations Research Committee and a special group to study work rules.

THE FIRST will study equitable adjustment of wages and benefits; what is a fair incentive wage; what shall happen to long service employes who may be laid off; also medical care, and "such other over-all problems as the parties" want to discuss.

The Committee on Work Rules —the phrase that was heard 'round the world and now appears to be forgotten by the public—will try to get up some recommendations. This committee must report in by Nov. 30, 1960—just about eight months from now.

Since there were 10 floors between me and the conferees in their secret aerie, I can only report that labor leader McDonald went in eager to talk about his own solution for the industrial traumas which shake the land regularly with national strikes.

He would like industry's support for a permanent national labor and Industry Advisory Committee to meet with the President of the United States.

McDonald says: "The committee should be appointed by President Eisenhower to serve the dual purpose of keeping the government advised of impending labor trouble and of keeping labor and management in constant communication between negotiations."

McDonald wants a committee of 10 or 12 men who would meet with the President of the U.S. "at least every other month to discuss pressing problems."

McDonald would like "decision makers, presidents or board chairmen of national industries such as steel, coal, automobile manufacturing and the railroads," on the committee.

This may yet come. For, when the men of steel broke up, at 7 o'clock they had found the other side wasn't really made up of ogres, at all.

World Hot Spot

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

At this moment the Soviet Union and the West are trying not to touch West Berlin with anything longer than a 10-foot pole. They will have to get a lot closer soon. That city is potentially the hottest spot in Europe.

It will be at the heart of the summit conference in May. No one is predicting the conference will produce a solution on the city satisfactory to both sides.

Perhaps the most that can be hoped for in the foreseeable future — say for a couple of years anyway — is a reluctance by the Soviets to push too hard in their drive to shake West Berlin out of the Allied camp.

If they do push — by trying to force the Allied troops out or shutting off the city from the West—shooting may follow. And that kind of shooting could hardly be limited to one city.

It is the belief of the Eisenhower administration that there can be no limited war in Western Europe—such as was possible in such a faraway spot as Korea—and that any war there will mean general war.

It was almost 16 months ago that Premier Nikita Khrushchev told the West to get its troops out of West Berlin which, although tied to West Germany, lies 110 miles inside Communist East Germany.

The departure of the troops no doubt would weaken the will of the West Berliners to resist the encroachments of the Communists all around them. The loss of the city would not be fatal to the West. But it would be a psychological disaster.

This week West Geramany's 84-year-old Chancellor, Konrad Adenauer, came here, talked with President Eisenhower about the stand the Allies would take on Berlin at the summit, and went away feeling reasured.

He and the President issued a joint statement that they were agreed any settlement with the Soviet Union on Berlin must preserve the freedom of the West Berliners.

But when the Allies — including Eisenhower — sit down with Khrushchev in Paris next May their firmness in standing together against damaging concessions to the Soviets will be tested.

At this moment Khrushchev—following pretty much the peaceful line he took at his Camp David meeting with Eisenhower here last fall — is quiet. But there is absolutely no indication he intends to back down on Berlin.

All the heat now being generated about Berlin may evaporate a bit —because for reasons of their own the Soviets are willing to let it evaporate — but it is unbelievable they will subside permanently.

To have the free and prosperous city of West Berlin deep in the heart of Communist Europe is like permitting a capitalistic cancer to flourish in the body of Marxism.

In short, West Berlin should continue to be both a hot spot and a sore one for years to come, even though nothing violent happens in the meantime.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Albert S. Pittinger, bank teller, was named superintendent of the Sunday School of the First Presbyterian Church.

An offer to furnish a room at the City Hospital was made to the Board of Trustees by East Liverpool Post 4 of the American Legion.

R. W. Johnson of East Liverpool was named chef de gare of Columbiana County Voiture 273, 40 and 8 Society.

TEN YEARS AGO — Mrs. Grace Burson Sisley was named president of the Newell Women's Club.

Flemington, N. J., was the scene in 1935 of the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the kidnaping-murder of the Lindbergh baby. Today it is mostly known otherwise as the location of an art pottery works.

Comfort For Commies

Racial Discord Follows Red Script

Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida is known as one of the "moderates," as contrasted with the "extremists," with respect to racial strife in the South, so what he has just said in criticism of the "sit - in Demonstrations is indicative of the deep feeling that is being engendered by these episodes.

David Lawrence

The governor made a public speech on Tuesday at Lakeland, Fla. in which he said:

"Today we see white Americans and colored Americans facing each other with glowering hate, willing to set whole communities aflame, all over whether they are to be permitted to sit at the same counters in ten-cent stores. . . .

"Racial discord in America is following a Communist script, whether or not it is written from the Kremlin. I would not know about this. But, frankly, if the leaders in the Kremlin had worked up a plan to weaken us throughout the world, I can think of none which would be more effective than the script we are now following."

The Florida governor declared that the "filibuster in our great national congress is being projected before the world as a bitter controversy between Americans over whether Negro citizens are free to vote in our free elections."

THE TRUTH IS, as Sen. Talmadge of Georgia pointed out the other day, large numbers of Negroes do vote in southern states. The question of their qualifications hitherto has been a state problem.

City Bids Seen On Insurance For Employes

Just as in the case of every other major purchase, the city probably would be required to call for competitive sealed bids on a standard set of specifications before setting up a new group insurance program for its 157 employes under which the municipality would pay a share of the premiums.

President Charles N. Edwards gave that explanation Thursday night when Council met with an employe committee to hear a proposal from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

Council took the proposal under advisement, but Councilman John Melvin, a member of the finance committee, said no decision can be made before work is completed on the annual appropriation ordinance — the detailed fiscal picture for 1960. The ordinance is expected to be ready for Council consideration by late March or early April.

Leo C. Lawrence, a local agent of Metropolitan, and Paul Doherty of the company's Cleveland office, explained a tentative group insurance proposal, but emphasized it can be tailored to meet local needs.

They declined to make exact premium costs public, pointing out it would prove an advantage to competitors in later bidding for the city's business. However, their plan would cost the city a little less than $6 per month per employe, while the worker's contribution — in the case of those with dependents — would be approximately $8.

The city's contribution would provide for each employe: $2,500 life insurance; hospital expenses of $13 a day for a maximum of 70 days; up to $200 for surgical fees, and $260 for "special services" such as diagnostic procedures. Dependents' benefits would be comprised of the $13 daily payment for hospital expenses and the $200 maximum for surgical fees, they said.

The employes approached Council late in 1959, asking the city to assume part of their hospital insurance premiums. The way was cleared for the request after the State Legislature enacted a law permitting Ohio political subdivisions to pay all or part of their worker's insurance costs, they explained.

The proposal was discussed on several occasions with the former Council, but when no decision was reached the question passed on to the current Council which assumed office Jan. 1.

E. B. Laughlin, chairman, acted as spokesman for the 10-man employe committee, made up of representatives of the water, street, incinerator and fire departments. Councilmen attending were John Kelly, Clinton R. Seevers, Robert Laughlin, Donald Smith and Melvin.

Laughlin told Council the employes now have a "hit-and-miss" group insurance plan that costs about $16 a month for a worker with dependents and about $6 for a man without dependents. The costs are paid via payroll deductions, as would be the case under the new proposal.

Doherty told Council the city's share of the program as explained last night boils down to a little less than 4 cents an hour per employe, based on a 40-hour week.

Counclimen pointed out the employes would be required to pay the entire premium for their dependents. State law would permit the city to pay the cost of its employes' insurance, but not the premium for the dependents, they explained.

There was considerable discussion on the possibility of an employe continuing the insurance coverage after retirement by paying the entire premium, but no definite decision was reached. Laughlin said another new state law makes it possible for a retired public employe to continue with group insurance by permitting deduction of his premiums from his pension check.

As the meeting ended, Melvin told the employe committee Council "will take the question under advisement, give it serious consideration and give you a decision at our earliest opportunity."

300 Attend 'Kickoff' Dinner

Air Hero Opens Beaver Seal Drive

R. E. (Dick) Steebner, assistant Midland chairman and former chairman, holds a sheet of seals.

Foss, who has a distinguished record as a Marine Corps flyer, has been active in work for crippled children for many years. He is also serving as commissioner of the newly-organized American Football League.

Over 300 attended the dinner including members and their wives of the six Rotary Clubs in Beaver County, with Midland's represented. During the campaign in Midland, a Tag Day will be held April 5 and a Bunny Hop parade April 9. Easter Lily Sunday will be Palm Sunday, April 10.

New officers may be elected at the Midland club meeting Thursday evening at the New Riviera Restaurant. Homer Paul is president.

Junior Class To Give Midland Play Tonight

The Junior Class at Midland High School will present its play, "Her Kissin' Cousin," a comedy in three acts, tonight at 8 in the auditorium.

Elementary students attended a performance Thursday afternoon.

The high school wind ensemble will provide music under the direction of Charles Henderson. The play has an eight-member cast. John Hineman, social studies teacher, is director, assisted by Florence Nuzzo and Pat Bratich, student directors.

The balsa is considered the fastest growing of all trees.

Traffic Hearing Set

CINCINNATI (AP) — A traffic court hearing is planned today for Willie Lee Griffin, 31, on a charge of second-degree manslaughter in the death of Reuben B. Robertson Jr., president of Champion Paper & Fibre Co. Police had charged him with drunken and reckless driving after the accident last Sunday morning. Griffin's car hit Robertson as the latter stood in a street after a minor traffic collison.

Disarm

da, the Communist party newspaper, made clear that the Soviet government has not abandoned its basic opposition to the Western demand that a control system be worked out before the major powers agree to disarm.

In a leading editorial and a dispatch from its correspondent at the Geneva conference, the paper insisted on approval of Khrushchev's plan for "total and general disarmament."

Moch told the conference controls are necessary because no disarmament agreement could rule out the possibility of secret violations.

He listed three essentials for the starting point of any control system:

1. The system must have means to verify the size and striking power of the nations' armed forces before beginning on any agreed reductions.

2. The system must be ready to operate simultaneously with any agreed disarmament measure.

3. An international force of inspectors must be in place in all countries from the start of any disarmament agreement to supervise missile launching sites, arms depots and stocks of fissionable materials.

The letter "V" and the letter "U" were identical until separated into separate sounds in the sixteenth century.

Phone Service Normal Again

A field crew working around-the-clock early today restored phone service to Salineville after traffic was disrupted by a short from water in an underground cable Wednesday night.

T. F. Edwards, commercial manager of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., said a temporary cable was laid to replace a cable off Route 39 in the Highlandtown vicinity that developed trouble from water seepage.

Crews were forced to dig up the damaged cable and the task of restoring circuits took longer than expected because of mud and snow. Circuits were tested and back in operation about 6:30 a.m. today.

The company said a farmer doing his spring plowing apparently knocked a sealing cap from the buried cable near the Oak Ridge Church and water seeped into the cable Wednesday night.

Long distance calls to several points were delayed and East Liverpool to Salineville calls were disrupted. However, emergency circuits were arranged for making calls last night.

DeMolays Induct Founder's Class

Fritz Eckert, Robert Beatty Jr., James L. Johnston and Roger Hicks were initiated at a meeting of Harding Chapter, DeMolay, Thursday night at the Masonic Temple.

The four will be known as the Founder's Class in honor of the founder of the youth fraternal organization, the late Frank Land.

About 39 attended the meeting at which Darrell Smith, master councilor, conducted business and Gary Hicks, scribe, reported. Final plans were made to attend services at the First Church of Christ Sunday morning at 10:30. Members will meet at the temple at 10:15.

Installation of new officers will be held at a public meeting April 21 at the temple. The next meeting will be April 7 when Gary Mackey, master councilor-elect, will announce officers to be installed.

Kite Flying Can Prove Hazardous

By Garry Meyer.

Although making and flying kites can be wholesome education and fun, some hazards are present to which electric power companies have been calling our attention. Because children often fly them from hills near towns and cities, kites may fall on telephone or power wires. Unguided, children may climb up poles or use long-handled tools to rescue kites. Danger from electrocution is obvious. Even some parents helping the children have their own lives endangered thereby. Not always does the kite land on a wire. Merely its string may rest on the wire as the kite drops beyond it. Suppose this string had metal in it!

PARENTS SHOULD go with their children to fly kites, taking them to safe places and guiding them to avoid power wires.

If a child's kite falls on a wire, wise parents seek its recovery only by calling an electrician or a representative of the power company. Even if parents knew enough to rescue the kite unaided, they may thereby fail to get over to the child a precious safety lesson.

Some older boys, wishing to have a very strong kite-string, may get one with a light wire core, making the kite a most perilous plaything.

Often a child may climb a tree or pole to rescue some plaything from a live wire. Or he may just climb up for fun, exposing himself to such a wire. A teen-ager or his father, wishing to install a TV aerial, may come in contact with an exposed power wire. Such are rarely safe jobs for Dad or his boy.

AFTER A VIOLENT wind storm children, seeing broken or fallen power wires, may investigate them by touching them. Let us teach our children at home and at school not only to avoid such exploring but also to call the police or the power company.

With summer approaching, many children, especially in rural places, may, as they play or wander about, innocently touch live wires.

On many a small farm slightly charged single wires are strung around pasture fields. When these wires cross a brook, children playing in the water can receive damaging or fatal electric shocks if they should touch them.

The hazard is similar to those that may occur in the bathroom when a person in the tub or with wet hands connects or disconnects wires on a radio or other electric gadget that, unwisely, had been carried to the bathroom. Also pendant chains from light bulbs can be dangerous. Instead, light buttons or levers should be installed against the wall.

My bulletin "First Steps in Training Tot in Safety" may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Father Of 3 Killed In Accident At Plant

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—John A. Thompson, 34, of Newark, father of three children, was killed Thursday in an accident at the Owens-Corning Fiberglas plant here.

Robert R. Schenk, plant personnel manager, said Thompson's chest was crushed by a small tractor which flipped over on top of him as he drove off a ramp.

Murder In Three Of Ohio's Large Cities Increased

WASHINGTON (AP) — Murder has been on the increase in three of Ohio's big cities, but has declined in three others and has been on an even rate in another.

This is evident from a study of crime information released by the FBI, concerning major cities crimes in 1959.

The FBI records—based on information supplied by the big city police departments — show that murder and non-negligent manslaughter:

Increase in 1959 over 1958: In Cincinnati, from 30 to 45; in Columbus, from 19 to 28; in Dayton, from 19 to 25.

Decreased in 1959, compared with 1958: In Akron, from 12 to 11; in Cleveland, from 73 to 68; in Toledo from 10 to 6.

Stayed the same for both years in Youngstown, with 9 offenses recorded in each year.

Nationally, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover found that crimes against the person increased 7 per cent from 1958 to 1959.

State Liquor Department On Schedule

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Liquor Department says it finally is up to date in processing data on liquor inventories, sales and allocations for the approximately 350 state stores and agencies.

That phase of the department's operations has been behind scheduled for about eight months. Finance Director James H. Maloon pointed out three months ago that the result was a delay in information needed to deposit gallonage and liquor sales taxes in the general revenue fund.

George R. Reiser, chief of the department's Division of Data processing, said the rented electronic equipment has been capable of doing the job all along, but that personnel had to be trained.

Since taking over the division in October, Reiser said he has been keeping the equipment busy seven days a week and "practically around the clock" to catch up. The division caught up March 12, Reiser said, and the data now is never more than a week-and-a-half old.

The department put in a punch card system during the O'Neill administration, and was caught up on data processing until the more complicated electronic equipment was installed last July. It pays about $15,800 a month rent for the data processing machines.

A sure cure for Insomnia
You've heard the joke, "The best cure for insomnia is a good night's sleep." Not funny to someone suffering "white nights," but true, nonetheless. Too-frequent use of sleeping pills can be bad. Even if they do not cause true addiction they may have a strong psychological effect. Users sometimes come to depend on them. So sleeping pills—any kind—should be taken only when a physician prescribes, and only in the amount directed.

Crash Ends Man's Record Of No License

Seeming perplexed and surprised by all the fuss, a 26-year-old East Liverpool man who faced Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today on charges of driving without a license told the court: "Why, I've driven in 42 states without a license!"

Eugene Beagle, 947 Lisbon St., was cited as an unlicensed driver after a collision Thursday at 3:10 p. m. at Jefferson and W. 6th Sts. that damaged his 1948 model truck and a 1950 two - door sedan operated by Richard H. Denkhaus, 31, of Canton.

Police alleged Beagle made a left turn in front of the oncoming Denkhaus car, so he also was charged with failure to yield the right - of - way.

Questioned by the judge, Beagle told the court he has been driving both cars and a motorcycle for years without a permit. He was carrying a temporary instruction permit, but was not accompanied by a licensed driver, police said. He blamed the crash on the fact his vision is not good, telling the judge he "needs glasses."

Beagle told Judge Chertoff he has used temporary permits repeatedly.

"I get a new one about once a year," he said.

Judge Chertoff lectured Beagle severely about his responsibility to other persons using the streets and highways, then told him he will not drive for 30 days — with or without a license. He fined Beagle $10 and costs on the right - of-way charge and gave him a suspended $25 fine on the license violation.

North Hancock's Red Cross Drive To Be Intensified

The annual fund campaign of the North Hancock County Red Cross Chapter, delayed by late winter snowstorms, will be intensified now that most of the snow has melted from streets.

Solicitation by workers opened March 5 in Chester, Newell, Pughtown and New Cumberland. The 1960 goal is $5,559. E. D. McNicol of Chester is fund drive chairman.

Mrs. Clair Finley, chairman of the campaign in Chester, has appointed team captains.

They are Miss Myrtle Bennett, Miss Darlene Walker, Mrs. Alvin Arner Jr., Mrs. Louis Eska, Mrs. Robert Murray, Mrs. Cyrus Hobbs, Mrs. R. M. McFarland, Mrs. James Wallace, Mrs. James Pruden, Mrs. Donald Hissam, Mrs. John Merriman, Mrs. Jay Minor and Mrs. James Yoho.

The drive in Lawrenceville will be completed by the auxiliary of American Legion Post 163. The fund campaign ends Sunday.

Mrs. V. E. McEldowney and Alfred D. LaNeve are Newell's chairmen, while the Rev. William H. Flurkey is Pughtown's chairman.

80 Attend Tri-County Sheep Group Session

LISBON — Eighty attended the Columbiana - Mahoning - Carroll County Sheep Association's meeting Thursday evening at the Dublin Grange Hall near Canfield.

Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture, said Earl Cope of Rogers, Howard Kohler of Poland and Wilbur Boggs of Carrollton were elected board members for a three-year-period.

57 Attend Salineville Ruritan Club's Dinner

SALINEVILLE — About 57 attended a "Ladies Night" dinner meeting of the Ruritan Club Thursday at the high school at which Tom Pike of Guilford discussed historical backgrounds of the county, such as Indian trails.

James Wadowick, chairman of the club minstrel, said rehearsals are progressing for the show April 7-9 at the high school. The performance April 7 will be for students.

Crash Ends Man's Record Of No License

Seeming perplexed and surprised by all the fuss, a 26-year-old East Liverpool man who faced Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today on charges of driving without a license told the court: "Why, I've driven in 42 states without a license!"

Eugene Beagle, 947 Lisbon St., was cited as an unlicensed driver after a collision Thursday at 3:10 p. m. at Jefferson and W. 6th Sts. that damaged his 1948 model truck and a 1950 two - door sedan operated by Richard H. Denkhaus, 31, of Canton.

Police alleged Beagle made a left turn in front of the oncoming Denkhaus car, so he also was charged with failure to yield the right - of - way.

Questioned by the judge, Beagle told the court he has been driving both cars and a motorcycle for years without a permit. He was carrying a temporary instruction permit, but was not accompanied by a licensed driver, police said. He blamed the crash on the fact his vision is not good, telling the judge he "needs glasses."

Beagle told Judge Chertoff he has used temporary permits repeatedly.

"I get a new one about once a year," he said.

Judge Chertoff lectured Beagle severely about his responsibility to other persons using the streets and highways, then told him he will not drive for 30 days — with or without a license. He fined Beagle $10 and costs on the right - of-way charge and gave him a suspended $25 fine on the license violation.

North Hancock's Red Cross Drive To Be Intensified

The annual fund campaign of the North Hancock County Red Cross Chapter, delayed by late winter snowstorms, will be intensified now that most of the snow has melted from streets.

Solicitation by workers opened March 5 in Chester, Newell, Pughtown and New Cumberland. The 1960 goal is $5,559. E. D. McNicol of Chester is fund drive chairman.

Mrs. Clair Finley, chairman of the campaign in Chester, has appointed team captains.

Two Small Boys Drown In Creek

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Two small boys plunged through ice into a creek and drowned in nearby Ellsworth Thursday night.

A third boy fell in, but he managed to struggle out and try to save one of his playmates.

The dead are Richard P. Merashoff, 8, and Jess A. Mann, 9, both of Ellsworth, a small coal mining community.

Authorities said the victims and Eugene Ross, 12, also of Ellsworth, were playing about 500 feet above Ellsworth Dam. The ice gave way, dropping the youngsters into the water.

Ross scrambled from the creek and tried to reach the Mann youngster. But the ice broke again and young Mann fell back into the water.

Catholic High School Pupils Barred From 'Going Steady'

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—The principal of Allentown Central Catholic High School has issued an edict barring pupils from going steady.

The Rev. Stephen J. Daday said Thursday the new order was based on the belief steady dating "has many serious consequences for high school students.

"It creates distractions to make concentrated study impossible. It often leads to marriages between couples who are too immature emotionally to assume the obligations of the marriage state.

"It sometimes occasions what we might call 'forced marriages'."

Father Daday explained that "our student body (1,600) is aware this is not a new policy of the Catholic Church but a restatement of a policy that is as old as her founder, Jesus Christ."

He said if boys and girls insist on going steady they would be barred from membership in student council, honor societies, athletic endeavors and other extra-curricular activities.

The edict said the school would consider couples dating steady when a boy and girl were explicit in words about it or when tokens were exchanged; when by the nature of their activities they indicated to other students they were going steady; or when they were seen together constantly at the school, church or homes.

Father Daday did not immediately specify who would enforce the edict or how it would be administered.

But perhaps one senior boy pupil gave some indication of how it would be enforced when asked for comment.

"I have no fear they won't be able to pick out the ones going steady. The faculty really keeps their eyes open. I'm happy to see someone has guts enough to really stand up to the problem.

"A lot of adults realize it (the problem) is there but don't do anything about."

A senior girl who is affiliated with a school publication said she didn't think any of those going steady had actually broken up.

"They're just putting on the act in school," she said.

Ohio Education Group Points To Need Of Teachers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's public schools must find an average of 10,974 new teachers in each of the next five school years, the State Education Department said today.

A report by Albert C. May, director of teacher certification, says that many persons with teachers' certificates will be needed annually to fill vacancies created each year by teacher losses and enrollment increases.

At the start of the present school year, May's report said, the schools employed 76,119 certificated teachers—50,695 women and 25,424 men. The figure represents an increase of 4,978 over the start of the 1958-59 school year.

Pupil enrollment in the public schools at the start of this school year was 1,850,291, or 67,654 more than at the start of the preceding school year. In comparison, 1,268,664 youngsters were enrolled in Ohio's public schools in 1930, 1,122,137 in 1940 and 1,658,014 in 1950.

DA In Perry Mason TV Show Loses His Job

CBS fired the 45-year-old actor shortly after he pleaded innocent to a misdemeanor charge of lewd vagrancy. The network gave no reason for the action.

Talman and six others are accused of gambling—without garments—at a Hollywood party last week. His trial was set for April 25.

Walkout Hits Operations

CLEVELAND (AP)—A walkout of 10 photoengravers has closed operations of Central Press Assn., a King Features Syndicate division employing 60 other workers servicing news and picture mats, comics and features to several hundred papers. Courtland C. Smith, Central Press managing editor, said the firm closed Thursday because of a walkout he said resulted from refusal to discharge an engraver apprentice and replace him with an unemployed journeyman engraver.

Attorney Will Speak To Area Churchmen

The Brotherhood Class of the First Church of Christ has arranged a special program for its meeting Monday night at 7:30, featuring Atty. William J. Weinman of Steubenville as the speaker.

A pre-Easter theme, "The Trial of Christ as Seen By a Modern-Day Attorney," will be his topic.

Men of the Chester, Newell, Pughtown, Fredericktown and East Liverpool Christian Churches have been invited.

Refreshments will be served.

Revenue Service Errs In Warning Of Errors

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Be careful not to make errors on the 1959 income tax returns, warned a news release from the Internal Revenue Service.

Then, in compiling a list of common errors, the service made one itself. It warned taxpayers to avoid errors in "authentic." The service meant "arithmetic."

A report by Albert C. May, director of teacher certification, says that many persons with teachers' certificates will be needed annually to fill vacancies created each year by teacher losses and enrollment increases.

At the start of the present school year, May's report said, the schools employed 76,119 certificated teachers—50,695 women and 25,424 men. The figure represents an increase of 4,978 over the start of the 1958-59 school year.

Pupil enrollment in the public schools at the start of this school year was 1,850,291, or 67,654 more than at the start of the preceding school year. In comparison, 1,268,664 youngsters were enrolled in Ohio's public schools in 1930, 1,122,137 in 1940 and 1,658,014 in 1950.

DA In Perry Mason TV Show Loses His Job

CBS fired the 45-year-old actor shortly after he pleaded innocent to a misdemeanor charge of lewd vagrancy. The network gave no reason for the action.

Talman and six others are accused of gambling—without garments—at a Hollywood party last week. His trial was set for April 25.

Walkout Hits Operations

CLEVELAND (AP)—A walkout of 10 photoengravers has closed operations of Central Press Assn., a King Features Syndicate division employing 60 other workers servicing news and picture mats, comics and features to several hundred papers. Courtland C. Smith, Central Press managing editor, said the firm closed Thursday because of a walkout he said resulted from refusal to discharge an engraver apprentice and replace him with an unemployed journeyman engraver.

Attorney Will Speak To Area Churchmen

The Brotherhood Class of the First Church of Christ has arranged a special program for its meeting Monday night at 7:30, featuring Atty. William J. Weinman of Steubenville as the speaker.

A pre-Easter theme, "The Trial of Christ as Seen By a Modern-Day Attorney," will be his topic.

Men of the Chester, Newell, Pughtown, Fredericktown and East Liverpool Christian Churches have been invited.

Refreshments will be served.

Revenue Service Errs In Warning Of Errors

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Be careful not to make errors on the 1959 income tax returns, warned a news release from the Internal Revenue Service.

Then, in compiling a list of common errors, the service made one itself. It warned taxpayers to avoid errors in "authentic." The service meant "arithmetic."

Election Set April 28

Hancock Education Group Chosen For Study By NEA

The Hancock County Education Association was told at its meeting Thursday night at New Cumberland it has been selected as one of three such county organizations in West Virginia to be visited by a representative of the National Education Association.

Mrs. Dorothy Booksby, field representative of the NEA and a teacher in the Flagstaff (Ariz.) public schools, will visit and study the organization April 28 and 29 and will be a guest of the association's annual meeting the first night at 7:30 at New Cumberland High School.

Miss Dorothy Talbot, chairman of the nominating committee, reported on the slate of officers for the election. Others on the committee were Mrs. Lucille Ross, George Campbell, Mrs. Virginia Marshall and Paul Jackson.

The election committee appointed by the president, Joseph Endry, consists of Ken Simcox, chairman, Carl Peters, Mrs. Sue Allison, Miss Virginia Beebout and Mrs. Mabel Porter.

Delegates were named to two state meetings. Frank Endry, Miss Gloria Seroy and Miss Betty Buben will attend the Classroom Teachers Association delegate assembly April 1-3 at Martinsburg, W. Va., and Robert Roach, Roy Cashdollar and Miss Seroy the West Virginia Education Association's assembly at Charleston May 6-7.

April has been designated as "Teaching Career Month" and the association is providing literature and posters for the Future Teachers of America Chapters in the various high schools.

Mrs. Betty Shaw of the Classroom Teachers' Association gave devotions.

Lawrenceville To Air Water Service Plans

A public meeting concerning the formation of a public service district in the Lawrenceville area to obtain water facilities will be held at the Lawrenceville fire station tonight at 7:30.

Hancock County commissioners will meet with the Community Center group to study new maps of the proposed service district. If the maps are approved, the commissioners can declare the district formally organized, clearing the way for establishment of a water program.

Hospital Treats 4 After Mishaps

A man hurt at work on an auto and a child injured at play were among four adults and youngsters treated at City Hospital Thursday.

Roger Hayman, 24, of 930 Denver St. suffered a laceration of the left ear when an auto on which he was at work slipped against him.

Susan Rardin, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Radin, 1152 Mick Rd., suffered a laceration of the scalp when struck on the head while at play.

Frank Williams, 29, of 475 Mulberry St. was treated for a possible back injury received in a fall.

John D'Angelo, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D'Angelo, 214 W. 7th St., suffered lacerations of fingers on film while screening a movie at school.

Band Dinner Planned By Salineville Group

SALINEVILLE — Plans for the annual junior band banquet were discussed at a meeting of the Band Boosters Wednesday night.

Mrs. Anna May Fraser and Mrs. Verla Detchon were named co-chairmen for the event to be scheduled later.

James Wadowick, director, announced the band will participate in a safety campaign parade at Salem May 21. A number of other district bands are to take part in the parade to be followed by a dance.

A spaghetti supper scheduled for April has been canceled, and other projects are being contemplated. The next meeting will be April 20.

College Entrance Test Dates Are Announced

LISBON — College Entrance Examination Board tests will be given at Lisbon High School on four dates in the 1960-61 school year, Principal George M. Nace Jr. said today.

Lisbon was the test center this year for the first time with three dates, Dec. 5, when 113 students participated, and March 12, when 46 took the tests. Another will be given May 20.

Dates for next school term tests are Dec. 3, Jan. 14, March 18, and May 20, all Saturdays, Nace said.

Grader Bids Ordered By Madison Township

The equipment is to replace a 10-year-old grader. Trustees plan to inspect road equipment March 26.

Road conditions were discussed along with plans to repair damage caused by the winter weather and expected spring thaws. Slag is being ordered for co-operation with the county in the annual summer road program.

Present were trustees Kenneth Barnes, Charles Snyder and Isaac Jones, Regis Scharf, clerk, and Tom Candle, road supervisor.

Firemen To Conduct Coin Card Solicitation

A coin card donation project was approved by the Lawrenceville volunteer firemen at a meeting Thursday night.

Some 500 coin cards, with space for 16 quarters, are to be distributed to Lawrenceville district residents to raise funds for the fire department. The cards were provided by the Arner Funeral Home.

It was reported the new fire truck, ordered last year, will be delivered soon. A spokesman at the Columbus manufacturing firm said delivery last week was prevented by weather and road conditions.

Lawrence Haun, president, was in charge. The next meeting will be April 7.

Census Crew Exams Slated

Examinations for selection of census crews in East Liverpool and Wellsville will be held Monday at the Elks Lodge in Wellsville.

Ray Neidengard, city crew leader, and Mrs. Ruth Nicolaus, Wellsville leader, said the series of one-hour tests for some 170 applicants will be held from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. on the second floor of the lodge on Riverside Ave. at 8th St.

The training sessions for the 18 members of the city crew and 18 for the Wellsville area will also be held at the lodge in preparation for the census taking due to begin April 1.

Mrs. Claudia Cunningham of East Palestine has been named crew leader for the East Palestine area, replacing Mrs. Robert Merwin. The East Palestine area will extend as far south as Route 170 between Calcutta and Route 30.

The Wellsville district will include Wellsville and area, but will also extend to the east, including Liverpool Township and the east side of Route 170.

The city district for which Neidengard is leader, extends to the McKinnon Ave. area.

At a crew leaders' meeting Thursday at Steubenville, actual enumerating was conducted in a part of that city to brief the leaders on procedure.

Building In Toledo Destroyed By Blaze

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Fire destroyed a one-story brick building of Paulco, Inc. in suburban Trilby and kept 30 firemen busy about an hour and a half before the blaze was brought under control early today.

Fire Chief William Glander said the building was a "total loss" but made no damage estimate. He said origin of the fire was not determined. The company imports novelties, many of them from Japan.

what's new at Olsen's?

Silhouette of Spring

"Ollie Olsen"

Fashion starts a fresh year each Spring. The 1960 silhouette emerges clearly in new and fascinating styles. Dresses start with soft bloused tops. Skirt takes a sudden fling. They flutter, flair, bounce or billow out. These new traits are due to a windfall of pleats, tucks, gathers or a flairing bias cut. Coats take on a new meaning. They are no longer confined to one season, with women dressing more by the weather than by the calendar. Hats are more glamorous, jaunty, straw sailors, lavishly flowered crowns, in many important fabrics. Add to all these, some of the most exciting jewelry and handbags and you have Springs new silhouette.

It was love at first sight when we saw the many new styles of walking suits at Olsen's today. Magnificient plaids, subtle solid colors and the more than ever popular tweeds. We were amazed at the price of these suits. A perfectly beautiful soft muted tweed featuring four-button front. Small flattering round collar and tapered push up sleeves. The skirt is oh so slim and seat lined, too. The colors are so interesting soft blue and grey melting into white. You can make them fit right into your budget at the low, low price of $24.79. Junior sizes 7-13, and Missy sizes 8-18.

Has your little daughter ever said, "I want a dress like mama's." Now she can have it. We found the most exciting group of Mother and Daughter dresses at Olsen's today. Just a few dollars can buy so much happiness for your little girl. She will be delighted to have a dress like mama's and mom's will be delighted with the wonderful fit and fabrics of these matching dresses. We found three different styles. Our favorite is a little sleeveless cotton in black and white print; with a full, full skirt, trimmed with rows of over size rick rack. So clean and fresh looking. Mom's sells for $3.99 and the little ones for $1.99 and $2.99.

Here at last, the shirt lovers shirt by Preston. Tailored like a man's with scrupulous attention to detail, down to the very last stitch. No nonsense about the price either. The "Preston" shirt is making history at $2.98. Such carefree prices means a whole new spring wardrobe of shirts. The Preston collection abounds with the prettiest prints and patterns you ever saw, and the softest pastels, too. All in the best behaved fabrics of Dacron and Cotton, in sizes 32 to 38.

Fashions favorite story, the accessory story. Top flight fashion authorities state your costume is only as smart as the accessories you wear with it. Never have we seen a larger or more beautiful selection of handbags than they have this Spring at Olsen's. Gleaming patents, soft leathers and the newest in imported straws. Huge basket type or totes that travel smartly in straw and leather. Deluxe accomodations that take rugged handling, yet travels in a grand manner in town and country or around the world. They have the look of a great big price, but don't be fooled, they are only $4.79 plus tax.

That's all today. See you next Friday.

what's new at Olsen's?

"Ollie Olsen"

Fashion starts a fresh year each Spring. The 1960 silhouette emerges clearly in new and fascinating styles. Dresses start with soft bloused tops. Skirt takes a sudden fling. They flutter, flair, bounce or billow out. These new traits are due to a windfall of pleats, tucks, gathers or a flairing bias cut. Coats take on a new meaning. They are no longer confined to one season, with women dressing more by the weather than by the calendar. Hats are more glamorous, jaunty, straw sailors, lavishly flowered crowns, in many important fabrics. Add to all these, some of the most exciting jewelry and handbags and you have Springs new silhouette.

It was love at first sight when we saw the many new styles of walking suits at Olsen's today. Magnificient plaids, subtle solid colors and the more than ever popular tweeds. We were amazed at the price of these suits. A perfectly beautiful soft muted tweed featuring four-button front. Small flattering round collar and tapered push up sleeves. The skirt is oh so slim and seat lined, too. The colors are so interesting soft blue and grey melting into white. You can make them fit right into your budget at the low, low price of $24.79. Junior sizes 7-13, and Missy sizes 8-18.

Has your little daughter ever said, "I want a dress like mama's." Now she can have it. We found the most exciting group of Mother and Daughter dresses at Olsen's today. Just a few dollars can buy so much happiness for your little girl. She will be delighted to have a dress like mama's and mom's will be delighted with the wonderful fit and fabrics of these matching dresses. We found three different styles. Our favorite is a little sleeveless cotton in black and white print; with a full, full skirt, trimmed with rows of over size rick rack. So clean and fresh looking. Mom's sells for $3.99 and the little ones for $1.99 and $2.99.

Here at last, the shirt lovers shirt by Preston. Tailored like a man's with scrupulous attention to detail, down to the very last stitch. No nonsence about the price either. The "Preston" shirt is making history at $2.98. Such carefree prices means a whole new spring wardrobe of shirts. The Preston collection abounds with the prettiest prints and patterns you ever saw, and the softest pastels, too. All in the best behaved fabrics of Dacron and Cotton, in sizes 32 to 38.

Fashions favorite story, the accessory story. Top flight fashion authorities state your costume is only as smart as the accessories you wear with it. Never have we seen a larger or more beautiful selection of handbags than they have this Spring at Olsen's. Gleaming patents, soft leathers and the newest in imported straws. Huge basket type or totes that travel smartly in straw and leather. Deluxe accomodations that take rugged handling, yet traveis in a grand manner in town and country or around the world. They have the look of a great big price, but don't be fooled, they are only $4.79 plus tax.

That's all today. See you next Friday.

Midland Still Smolders ...

The WPIAL tournament is over, but there are still a few ashes smoldering in Midland. And they aren't from the steel mill.

The Uniontown-Midland game is history and Coach George Hamilton knows that it won't do him any good to go around complaining about the officiaiting last Saturday night at the Pitt Fieldhouse.

But there were several well-wishers for Midland who either saw Hamilton after the game or called him telling him that the officials—Gallo and Bertha—let Uniontown go a little too far.

One veteran coach commented, "In 25 years of coaching I never saw anything like it." A fan said, "Two games marked by poor officiating have stood out in my mind over the years and the Midland-Uniontown game is one of them."

Farrell ended up winning another WPIAL title, but Hamilton is almost convinced that Midland could have given Coach Ed McCluskey's team all it wanted.

"We have more size than Farrell and we could have given that team a real game," Hamilton added.

"We'll start all over again next year," Hamilton said. "Anderson is going to give us something to start with. He is a fine college prospect."

The Midland coach was talking about Carl Anderson, a junior this year and one of the "coolest" players that ever stepped onto a basketball court. He displays little emotion.

The Leopards had a great team and seniors like Movie Smith, Gene Lake, Steve Yetso, Don Migliore and Barney Silverman should find a spot on some college team.

Finnegan Is Banquet Speaker ...

EDDIE FINNEGAN, head football coach and athletic director at Western Reserve University, who was a hit when he spoke here in 1952, will return as guest speaker at the annual East Liverpool High basketball banquet April 11.

Finnegan, an interesting speaker, has some good tales to spin about great athletes he has coached. One in particular is Harrison Dillard, the Olympic star, who Finnegan tutored at Baldwin-Wallace College, where he coached before taking the Western Reserve post.

Clair Williams, the former All-Ohio player and tailback on East Liverpool's undefeated 1952 team, played football under Finnegan at Western Reserve.

We remember quite vividly the night Finnegan spoke here. He didn't come right out and say he wanted Williams to attend Western Reserve, but he worded it this way:

"We have a room on the Western Reserve campus for a guy like Clair Williams if he wants it." And sure enough that's where Clair ended up and went on to become one of Reserve's all-time backs.

Wilson Draws Starting Job ...

FRANK "BUTCH" WILSON, former Potter baseball and basketball standout, will start at second base for Ohio State which opens its spring vacation schedule today in Florida.

Frank left Columbus Thursday night by plane with the OSU nine which will play its spring games at Tallahassee and Winter Park, Fla.

The Buckeyes are slated to meet the University of Georgia today and then oppose Florida State Saturday.

The team will then meet Rollins, Amherst and South Carolina.

Wilson is the only sophomore to draw a starting assignment on the Buckeye squad.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivor Wilson of 115 Beechwood Ave.

A teammate of Wilson's at Ohio State will be John Havlicek of Bridgeport who has been a standout on the Buckeye cage squad this season. Havlicek will be a candidate for a first base job after he returns from the NCAA tournament at San Francisco.

THERE ALSO IS a chance that two East Liverpool boys will meet on the diamond this season in the Big 10 conference.

Wilson will be playing at Ohio State while Bernie Allen picks up where he left off at Purdue.

Bernie hit a .348 clip against Big 10 competition last year to lead Purdue in this department. He also was named to the second All-Big 10 team.

This 'n That In Sports ...

WHEN East Liverpool meets Massillon to open the 1960 football season on Sept. 9, the Potters will have their work cut out for them in stopping the running of fullback Art Hastings.

He was Massillon's leading ground gainer and a third-team All-Ohio choice. Hastings averaged over 11 yards per carry and tied for scoring honors with 12 touchdowns.

—:—

RUDY TRBOVICH, East Liverpool's lone candidate at present in minor league baseball, has reported to the Savannah (Ga.) Club in the Class "A" Sally League.

Rudy pitched the Class "C" Northern League last season.

—:—

FOR you Sunday TV viewers, the CBS Net work will visit the training camps of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Chicago White Sox this Sunday from 3 to 4:30 p. m. on "The Sunday Sports Spectacular."

UNITED'S basketball coach Bob Penrod is thinking about leaving the Hanoverton area school after this year.

This might be the opening that Jack Mills, the former Lisbon coach, is looking for. Jack lives only a few miles from United and said earlier that he would like to get back into coaching high school ball.

TWO LOCAL entries in the New Brighton cage tournament lost their stars this week because of a two-year ruling.

Bevo Francis, who was to perform for Freed's, and Jim Tucker, who was scheduled to play under the Alex's Carry-Out banner, were ruled professionals and thus weren't permitted to compete.

The tournament committee handed down the ruling.

Francis had played with the Satellites of Grand Rapids, Mich., last season and Tucker was connected with a team in the Eastern League.

Cleveland K.C. To End Indoor Track Season

CLEVELAND (AP)—The indoor track season winds up here tonight with the 20th K. of C. games, and a star-spangled international field will vie for the laurels.

The games take on added significance as the runners and jumpers move toward berths on Uncle Sam's Olympic team which performs this summer in Rome under the tutelage of Ohio State's veteran mentor, Larry Snyder.

Lee Calhoun of Gary, Ind., who carried America's colors to victory in the 110-meter high hurdles at Melbourne in 1956, is the lone Olympic winner due to start. But Hayes Jones of Eastern Michigan, who has beaten Calhoun in all six of their meetings this season, is favored in the 50-yard highs.

Six other 1956 Olympic entrants are here, along with four of 1959's Pan-American winners, and various champions in the Big Ten, national AAU, IC4A and NCAA meets.

Drugging Incident Probed

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Bradley's top-seeded Braves and upstart Providence meet Saturday afternoon for the championship of a National Invitation Basketball Tournament marred by fears of a drugging incident.

Sophomore Chet Walker, high-scoring 6-7 star of Bradley, remained under treatment today after becoming ill after drinking a glass of orange juice Thursday. It was delivered to his hotel room by a stranger in a red uniform shortly before the Braves beat St. Bonaventure 82-71 Thursday night.

Providence, unseeded in the tournament, joined Bradley in the final with a 68-62 victory over second-seeded Utah State in the second game of the semifinal doubleheader at Madison Square Garden.

An analysis of a sample of the juice was to be made today by police, who were called into the case after Walker and roommate Al Saunders reported the incident to Coach Chuck Orsborn. A detective said he was inclined to think the incident was a harmless prank. Orsborn said Walker sometimes has a nervous stomach before a game "but nothing before like this."

Although nauseous and weak, Walker played 23 minutes and scored 27 points for Bradley, including five in a row that put away the victory in the closing minutes. Then, "feeling weak and tired," he was put to bed at the hotel.

"For a boy as sick as he was, I thought Walker played a wonderful game," said Orsborn. "Mike Owens played very well too and did a wonderful job of puncturing St. Bonaventure's half-court press."

Bradley came from 12 points behind with eight minutes left for a 57-55 regular season victory over Providence at their home court in Peoria, Ill., on Dec. 14.

Providence Coach Joe Mullaney said Thursday night "If we hope to win we're going to have to lift our entire game. We made too many mistakes against Utah State. We won because we got the breaks toward the end.

Len Wilkens, Johnny Egan and 6-10 Jim Hadnot did the big job for the Friars, who ran their winning streak to 11. Wilkens had 18 points, Egan 16 and Hadnot 10.

W. Va. Schools Shoot The Works In Finals

MORGANTOWN (AP) — The little school teams got the State High School Basketball Tournament started this morning with games between their area champions.

The first to go at it were Paden City (20-4) and Piedmont (21-2), at 9 a.m. Rainelle (18-6) met Ansted (2-1) at 10:45 a.m.

The double A's took over in the afternoon. In their first game, at 2 p.m., it was Romney (24-0) against Clendenin (19-6). Romney has been looked upon as the favorite because of its star, Bill Maphis, who has been averaging 29 points a game.

The second set of regional champions squared off at 3:45 p. m. They were Oceana (23-1) and Clay-Battelle (17-7). Clay-Battelle is the only team in the tournament close enough to commute.

The big schools get going in the evening. Both Huntington (21-1) and Montgomery, the only unbeaten Class AAA team, will be able to use their stars.

Huntington's Bob Barrett has recovered considerably from his knee injury of last Monday. He worked out at Fairmont yesterday, and looked good. Larry Ballard of Montgomery has gotten over the flu, and should be his old self again.

The Huntington - Montgomery game will be the second of the AAAs, at 9:15 p.m.

Parkersburg (17-5) meets Elkins (14-10) in the evening opener, at 7:30 p. m.

The day's winners will play each other tomorrow for the championships of their classes. The schedule of title games is Class A, 1 p.m.; Class AA, 3 p.m.; and Class AAA, 7:30 p.m.

FIGHT RESULTS

Boise, Idaho — Jimmy Grow, 138, Lewiston, Idaho, and The Javellana Kid, 138, Philippines, drew, 10.

Match Play Launched In Women's Golf Event

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — The upper bracket, headed by national champion Barbara McIntire of Lake Park, Fla., appeared a shade stronger than the lower half as match play began today in the North and South Women's Amateur Golf Tournament.

Miss McIntire was matched with Mrs. Joseph Dempsey of Islip, Long Island, N.Y., a nine handicapper, in the first of the day's 16 matches.

East Tech Tops Niles, Gains Regional Finals

By HAL PARIS
(The Associated Press)

Powerful Cleveland East Tech, seeking a third straight state Class AA crown, and Glenford, out to regain the Class A title it won in 1941, have reached the finals of Ohio's regional high school basketball tournaments.

The Cleveland juggernaut built up an early advantage and coasted to a 66-50 victory over Niles in action at Kent Thursday night.

In the smaller school class, unheralded Glenford, using ball control tactics, surprised previously unbeaten Granville, 45-42.

Tech's Scarabs can gain a ticket to the state finals next weekend in Columbus with a win Saturday over Akron East (15-8).

Glenford's Golden Horde has a much tougher assignment at Athens Saturday, rugged New Boston which has reeled off 23 straight victories.

East Tech, which dropped its season opener, now has stormed to 21 wins in a row. Gene Lane, 6-foot-8 captain, dropped in 18 points and garnered 22 rebounds for the Cleveland team, which rolled to a 40-21 halftime margin. Niles finished with a 13-10 mark.

Glenford, 22-5, was paced by Tom Shafter's 21 points.

There's a big slate of 14 regional semifinals tonight. In Class AA play at Columbus, Portsmouth (18-4) tangles with Canton Timken (22-0) and Newark (20-3) goes against Steubenville (19-4).

In other AA action, Toledo Scott (20-2) meets Pemberville Eastwood (22-1) and Marion Harding (17-5) faces Elyria (20-3) at Toledo; while at Cincinnati, top-ranked Dayton Roosevelt (23-0) plays Middletown (17-6) and Cincinnati Western Hills (18-5) clashes with Urbana (21-1).

Here's the lineup tonight for Class A:

Montreal Goalie Riddled For Six; Trophy Hope Hit

By The Associated Press

Goalie Jacques Plante's quest for his fifth straight Vezina Trophy was in jeopardy today as the National Hockey League entered its final weekend of regular season play.

The Montreal net-minder was riddled for six goals Thursday night and the Toronto Maple Leafs whipped the first-place Canadiens 6-2 in the only game played.

As a result of the Leafs' scoring output, Plante and goalie Glenn Hall of the Chicago Black Hawks are tied for the least goals allowed. Each has given up 174 goals in 68 games.

The Vezina Trophy goes to the goalie who has played the most games for the team scored upon the least. Hall has played in every Black Hawk game while Plante has missed just one.

The first to go at it were Paden City (20-4) and Piedmont (21-2), at 9 a.m. Rainelle (18-6) met Ansted (2-1) at 10:45 a.m.

The double A's took over in the afternoon. In their first game, at 2 p.m., it was Romney (24-0) against Clendenin (19-6). Romney has been looked upon as the favorite because of its star, Bill Maphis, who has been averaging 20 points a game.

The second set of regional champions squared off at 3:45 p. m. They were Oceana (23-1) and Clay-Battelle (17-7). Clay-Battelle is the only team in the tournament close enough to commute.

The big schools get going in the evening. Both Huntington (21-1) and Montgomery, the only unbeaten Class AAA team, will be able to use their stars.

Huntington's Bob Barrett has recovered considerably from his knee injury of last Monday. He worked out at Fairmont yesterday, and looked good. Larry Ballard of Montgomery has gotten over the flu, and should be his old self again.

The Huntington - Montgomery game will be the second of the AAAs, at 9:15 p.m.

Parkersburg (17-5) meets Elkins (14-10) in the evening opener, at 7:30 p. m.

The day's winners will play each other tomorrow for the championships of their classes. The schedule of title games is Class A, 1 p.m.; Class AA, 3 p.m.; and Class AAA, 7:30 p.m.

East Tech Tops Niles, Gains Regional Finals

By HAL PARIS
(The Associated Press)

Powerful Cleveland East Tech, seeking a third straight state Class AA crown, and Glenford, out to regain the Class A title it won in 1941, have reached the finals of Ohio's regional high school basketball tournaments.

The Cleveland juggernaut built up an early advantage and coasted to a 66-50 victory over Niles in action at Kent Thursday night.

In the smaller school class, unheralded Glenford, using ball control tactics, surprised previously unbeaten Granville, 45-42.

Tech's Scarabs can gain a ticket to the state finals next weekend in Columbus with a win Saturday over Akron East (15-3).

Glenford's Golden Horde has a much tougher assignment at Athens Saturday, rugged New Boston which has reeled off 23 straight victories.

East Tech, which dropped its season opener, now has stormed to 21 wins in a row. Gene Lane, 6-foot-8 captain, dropped in 18 points and garnered 22 rebounds for the Cleveland team, which rolled to a 40-21 halftime margin. Niles finished with a 13-10 mark.

Glenford's win snapped previously unbeaten Granville's victory skein at 24. It included an overtime regular season triumph over Glenford.

Glenford, 22-5, was paced by Tom Shafter's 21 points.

There's a big slate of 14 regional semifinals tonight. In Class AA play at Columbus, Portsmouth (16-4) tangles with Canton Timken (22-0) and Newark (20-3) goes against Steubenville (19-4).

In other AA action, Toledo Scott (20-2) meets Pemberville Eastwood (22-1) and Marion Harding (17-5) faces Elyria (20-3) at Toledo; while at Cincinnati, top-ranked Dayton Roosevelt (23-0) plays Middletown (17-6) and Cincinnati Western Hills (18-5) clashes with Urbana (21-1).

Here's the lineup tonight for Class A:

Montreal Goalie Riddled For Six; Trophy Hope Hit

By The Associated Press

Goalie Jacques Plante's quest for his fifth straight Vezina Trophy was in jeopardy today as the National Hockey League entered its final weekend of regular season play.

The Montreal net-minder was riddled for six goals Thursday night and the Toronto Maple Leafs whipped the first-place Canadiens 6-2 in the only game played.

As a result of the Leafs' scoring output, Plante and goalie Glenn Hall of the Chicago Black Hawks are tied for the least goals allowed. Each has given up 174 goals in 68 games.

The Vezina Trophy goes to the goalie who has played the most games for the team scored upon the least. Hall has played in every Black Hawk game while Plante has missed just one.

Match Play Launched In Women's Golf Event

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — The upper bracket, headed by national champion Barbara McIntire of Lake Park, Fla., appeared a shade stronger than the lower half as match play began today in the North and South Women's Amateur Golf Tournament.

Miss McIntire was matched with Mrs. Joseph Dempsey of Islip, Long Island, N.Y., a nine handicapper, in the first of the day's 16 matches.

Cleveland K.C. To End Indoor Track Season

CLEVELAND (AP)—The indoor track season winds up here tonight with the 20th K. of C. games, and a star-spangled international field will vie for the laurels.

The games take on added significance as the runners and jumpers move toward berths on Uncle Sam's Olympic team which performs this summer in Rome under the tutelage of Ohio State's veteran mentor, Larry Snyder.

Lee Calhoun of Gary, Ind., who carried America's colors to victory in the 110-meter high hurdles at Melbourne in 1956, is the lone Olympic winner due to start. But Hayes Jones of Eastern Michigan, who has beaten Calhoun in all six of their meetings this season, is favored in the 50-yard highs.

Six other 1956 Olympic entrants are here, along with four of 1959's Pan-American winners, and various champions in the Big Ten, national AAU, IC4A and NCAA meets.

Offense Vs. Defense As Cincy-California Clash Tonight

OSU Matched With Violets In Other Tilt

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—High-powered Cincinnati with its Big O —Offense and Oscar Robertson— battles California and Big D — Defense and Darrall Imhoff — tonight in the NCAA basketball semifinals matching the nation's top rated clubs.

In the other semifinal before a capacity crowd of 16,000 at the Cow Palace, the dark horse New York University Violets match shots with the No. 3 ranked club, Ohio State's Buckeyes, champions of the Big Ten. It's the first game starting at 10:30 p.m. EST with Cal-Cincinnati following at 12:30.

Cincinnati's chances ride with three-time All-America Robertson who gets his final chance to bring the national crown to the Bearcats. Last year in the semifinals, California's defense stopped him as the Bears won an upset 64-58.

"We're all glad to get another chance to play California," declared Robertson on the game's eve. "But we know it has a fine team."

Both clubs posted 27-1 records en route to the championships with Cincinnati noted for a blistering offense and California for a tenacious defense. The Associated Press poll ranked the Bearcats No. 1 this season and California No. 2 with Robertson and Imhoff winning spots on the All-America five.

Another All-America is Ohio State's sensational sophomore Jerry Lucas, the big hope of the high-scoring Buckeyes against NYU, whose coach, Lou Rossini declared:

"We certainly think we have a chance against Ohio State and from scouting reports a good one."

Rossini's star has been 6-7 center Tom Sanders with his starting five including Al Filardi and Al Barden as corner men and Ray Paprocky and Russ Cunningham in the back court. The average height of the Violets—6 feet 2½ inches with Cunningham at 5-8—is the smallest of the tournament teams.

Ohio State paced the nation in scoring with an average of 91.6 points per game. Starting with the 6-8 Lucas are two other sophomores. John Havlicek and Mel Nowell, junior Larry Siegfried and senior Joe Roberts. The Buckeyes average 6-5 for the starting five, the same as Cincinnati. California averages 6-4½.

The Buckeyes posted a 23-3 record and NYU 22-3, the latter by winning its last 11 games.

"I don't recall a tournament where the four finalists have lost a total of only eight games," commented Coach Pete Newell of California, who said balance is his club's greatest asset.

There will be no national telecast but some local areas in the vicinities of the competing schools will carry the programs.

Coach George Smith of Cincinnati, asked if he felt his club could beat California, answered: "That's what we're here for."

With Robertson on the starting five are seniors Larry Willey and Ralph Davis, Junior Carl Bouldin and 6-9 sophomore Paul Hogue.

Beaver Local Faculty, Fairfield Set Tonight

The Beaver Local faculty will meet the Fairfield - Waterford faculty in a basketball game tonight at 8 at Beaver Local High School. A wrestling match between grapplers from the elementary intramural program will be staged at 7 p. m. Proceeds will go to the Athletic Association.

Maris Yank Bright Spot

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) —Roger Maris, the outfielder obtained in a trade with Kansas City, is one of the bright spots in an otherwise drab New York Yankee training camp. He has hit safely in all five exhibition games the Yankees have played for a heavy .367 average.

Trade Rumors Fly

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — There were rumors in the Boston Red Sox training camp today that the club might trade versatile infielder Pete Runnels to Baltimore for Gus Triandos, heavy hitting Baltimore catcher. There was no comment from the Sox brass.

At South Side

'Yale-Princeton' Game Set

The girls physical education classes of South Side High School near Hookstown will hold their "Yale-Princeton" game tonight at 8 p. m. in the high school gymnasium. Miss Angela Zondos, physical education teacher, will be in charge.

Kathleen, 6, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daymond (Buss) Frazier of Hookstown. Yale's mascot, Joy Lutton, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lutton of Georgetown R. D. 1, was unable to attend for the picture.

There are 10 members on each teaam and they include four juniors and the rest seniors. Each team has cheerleaders selected from the elementary and junior-senior high school.

Half-time entertainment will include the Monaca Turners, a gymnastic exhibition team under the direction of Frank Hacker of Ambridge. Proceeds will be used to help buy gym equipment.

Princeton won last year, 42-40.

4 Seniors, Lone Junior On Little All-American

By TED MEIER
AP Basketball Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — There should be torrid competition next year for berths on basketball's Little All-America. Four seniors and a junior were named to the 1960 Little All-America by The Associated Press Thursday leaving the 1961 field wide open.

Marv Bachmeier, the junior from North Dakota State, promises to be a repeater in 1961. But no one can say who will replace Ed Smallwood of Evansville's NCAA champions, Charles Sharp of Southwest Texas' NAIA champions, Willie Jones of American University and Bobby Williams of St. Josephs (Indiana).

Sharp, a 6-6 hookshot artist, is the only repeater this year from the 1959 Little All-America. He was voted the most valuable player in the NAIA tourney as he led the Southwest Bobcats to the title. Smallwood, at 6-4 the second tallest player on the first team, was the most valuable player in the NCAA small college tourney as Evansville again won the NCAA crown.

Jones, 5-9, set an NCAA record single game high of 54 points against Evansville in the quarterfinals. About the only reason American Univ. didn't win that game was Smallwood's 41 points that twice wiped out eight-point leads by the Mason-Dixon Conference champs. Williams set all kinds of scoring records for St. Josephs while Bachmeier virtually rewrote the North Central Conference record book.

Chuck Davis, a 5-9 ball-handling wizard who led the Westminster (Pa) Titans to second place in the NAIA tourney, headed the 1960 second team. Dennis Bonne of Regis, Jim McDonald of West Virginia Wesleyan, Don Perrelli of Southern Connecticut and Tom Cooke of Chapman (Calif) round out the second team.

An Even Dedication

GARY, Ind. (AP) — Things were confusing in the first minute of a basketball game dedicating Tolleston High School's new gymnasium. Bob Wilson scored the first basket for Whiting's visitors. Bob Wilson (no relation) scored the first basket for Tolleston. Things were simpler after that. Neither Wilson made another basket.

Lausse Favored To Beat Greaves

That punch, plus a current victory streak of 14, has made the South American middleweight champion a 9-5 favorite to beat rugged Wilfie Greaves, the Canadian ruler, in their 10-round television (NBC 10 p.m., EST) fight at Madison Square Garden tonight.

White To Miss Exhibition Tilt With Boston

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The Cleveland Indians' new catcher, Sammy White, could be helpful today when the club plays the Boston Red Sox and seeks to even its exhibition game record at 3-3. But Sammy won't be there to advise Cleveland pitchers about his old teammates.

White, regular catcher for the Bosox the last eight seasons, flew home to Boston Wednesday night, a few hours after the Indians obtained him in a trade for Russ Nixon. White wanted a couple of days off to check on construction of his new bowling alleys there.

"I gave him permission with reluctance," said General Manager Frank Lane.

"He reported to the Red Sox a week late, and he hasn't done much work. He looks too heavy to me."

Thursday the Indians defeated the Chicago Cubs 4-3, thanks largely to the homer clouted by Rocky Colavito in the sixth inning.

It was the Rock's fourth home run in five exhibition clashes. He connected with the Indians a run behind and a man on base. The Cubs now have five straight losses.

Colavito's homer was one of only five hits off Cub pitchers. Norm Cash's double was the only hit off Dick Drott in his first four innings. Later Bubba Phillips tripled and George Strickland and John Temple added singles to the Tribe's weak offensive.

Defensively, the Indians showed strength. Southpaw Dick Stigman and righthanders Ernie Johnson and Al Cicotte hurled scoreless ball after the Cubs batted three runs in the first three innings off Bob Lemon.

Newest Indian, Jim Marshall, 27-year-old first baseman-outfielder acquired with White in Wednesday's trade, is well satisfied.

"I'm the happiest man in baseball," said Marshall, who had been hoping for a chance to play for field boss Joe Gordon.

Detroit Improves Bench, Will Be Stronger In '60

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Detroit lost 15 of its first 17 games last year, then spurted to within half a game of the lead after Jimmy Dykes took over as manager.

Four Tiger pitchers won a total of 65 games. Two Detroit hitters finished one-two in the batting race. Still, they wound up two games under .500 in fourth place, 18 games back.

What happened?

"There was a little item called left on base," said Dykes. "If you look it up you will see we left 1,161 on base. We lost 26 games by one run.

"Injuries killed us. Just when we were hot in June, Al Kaline got hit on the face and broke his cheekbone. Harvey Kuenn ran into a fence in Baltimore and hurt his leg and Frank Bolling was out about a month with an infected foot."

What about this year?

"We're improved in reserves more than anyplace else. If somebody gets hurt we can stick in a fellow who won't hurt us. And we've got a shortstop (Chico Fernandez) with a wider range than Rocky (Bridges).

Dykes' four starting pitchers are Frank Lary (17-10 last year), Don Mossi (17-9), Jim Bunning (17-13) who led the league with 201 strikeouts, and Paul Foytack (14-14).

Either Ray Narleski (4-12) or Ray Semproch (3-10 with the Phils) could be the fifth starter. Either or both could revert to the bullpen which was a sad department last season. Of the newcomers, Bob Bruce (11-13 at Charleston) has impressed Dykes. So has Phil Regan (10-5 at Birmingham). Pete Burnside (1-3), Tom Morgan (1-4), Dave Sisler (1-3) and possibly Hank Aguirre (8-7 at Charleston and still on a minor league roster) will round out the staff.

The outfield, of course, is the heart of the Tiger club. Batting champ Kuenn (.353) will be in right and Al Kaline (.327), the runnerup, will be in center with Charlie Maxwell (.251), in left. Dykes likes what he has seen of Steve Boros (.305 at Birmingham) and George Thomas (.274 at Birmingham). Neil Chrisley (.132) and Johnny Groth (.235) are extras.

At the moment Dykes is counting on Steve Bilko (.305 at Spokane), the hulking first baseman drafted from the Dodger organization for another whirl. Bolling (.266) at second and Eddie Yost (.278) at third are fixtures. The shortstop will be Fernandez (.211) with the Phils) backed up by Bridges (.268). Gail Harris (.200) and Don Osborne (.191) are behind Bilko.

Colavito Belts Fourth Homer As Tribe Wins

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Don't knock The Rock."

That was the battle cry of Colavito fans during Rocky's off-season salary wrangling with Cleveland General Manager Frank Lane. The Indians' GM apparently got the word because Rocky received a salary increase of 25 per cent to $35,000.

But Colavito was reportedly after $40,000 and he grudgingly accepted the lesser amount.

Now it's the Rock whose doing the knockin'. And with the same big bat that hit 42 home runs last year to share the American League crown with Harmon Killebrew of Washington.

At Tucson Thursday Colavito homered for two runs in the sixth inning as the Indians came from behind for a 4-3 spring training victory over the Chicago Cubs.

It was Rocky's fourth homer in five games.

In the other Arizona game, at Scottsdale, the San Francisco Giants scored three times in the eighth to hand the Boston Red Sox their first loss in five spring games, 4-3.

Rain slashed a six-game Florida schedule to two with the Chicago White Sox beating Washington 1-0 at Orlando and Kansas City edging Baltimore 3-2 in 10 innings at Miami.

Money Can't Buy ABC Title

TOLEDO, Ohio. (AP) —For the first time in several years, it begins to look as though money cannot buy the American Bowling Congress team championship.

In the last five years the champions have been richly endowed teams bearing names of major breweries. The Pfeiffers and the Falstaffs each won the title twice since 1954, while Peter Hand Reserve of Chicago claimed it once.

During the first 13 days of the current ABC, the Pfeiffers and Falstaffs have been relegated to the also-rans, along with the Budweisers, a team which has won every major bowling title except the ABC.

Generally regarded as the nation's top teams, this trio gets rich financial backing. Lowest of the three this season were the Pfeiffers which were sponsored to the tune of $65,000.

In contrast to the hefty salaries and lush expense accounts of the three ten-pin giants, current leader of the ABC, Central Welding, receives a modest $2,500 stipend. The Lansing, Mich., quintet knocked down 2995 pins Thursday night in the open division, while the Falstaffs eked out 2812.

The girls physical education classes of South Side High School near Hookstown will hold their "Yale-Princeton" game tonight at 8 p. m. in the high school gymnasium. Miss Angela Zondos, physical education teacher, will be in charge.

Kathleen, 6, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daymond (Buss) Frazier of Hookstown. Yale's mascot, Joy Lutton, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lutton of Georgetown R. D. 1, was unable to attend for the picture.

There are 10 members on each teaam and they include four juniors and the rest seniors. Each team has cheerleaders selected from the elementary and junior-senior high school.

Half-time entertainment will include the Monaca Turners, a gymnastic exhibition team under the direction of Frank Hacker of Ambridge. Proceeds will be used to help buy gym equipment.

Princeton won last year, 42-40.

4 Seniors, Lone Junior On Little All-American

By TED MEIER
AP Basketball Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — There should be torrid competition next year for berths on basketball's Little All-America. Four seniors and a junior were named to the 1960 Little All-America by The Associated Press Thursday leaving the 1961 field wide open.

Marv Bachmeier, the junior from North Dakota State, promises to be a repeater in 1961. But no one can say who will replace Ed Smallwood of Evansville's NCAA champions, Charles Sharp of Southwest Texas' NAIA champions, Willie Jones of American University and Bobby Williams of St. Josephs (Indiana).

Sharp, a 6-6 hookshot artist, is the only repeater this year from the 1959 Little All-America. He was voted the most valuable player in the NAIA tourney as he led the Southwest Bobcats to the title. Smallwood, at 6-4 the second tallest player on the first team, was the most valuable player in the NCAA small college tourney as Evansville again won the NCAA crown.

Jones, 5-9, set an NCAA record single game high of 54 points against Evansville in the quarterfinals. About the only reason American Univ. didn't win that game was Smallwood's 41 points that twice wiped out eight-point leads by the Mason-Dixon Conference champs. Williams set all kinds of scoring records for St. Josephs while Bachmeier virtually rewrote the North Central Conference record book.

Chuck Davis, a 5-9 ball-handling wizard who led the Westminster (Pa) Titans to second place in the NAIA tourney, headed the 1960 second team. Dennis Bonne of Regis, Jim McDonald of West Virginia Wesleyan, Don Perrelli of Southern Connecticut and Tom Cooke of Chapman (Calif) round out the second team.

An Even Dedication

GARY, Ind. (AP) — Things were confusing in the first minute of a basketball game dedicating Tolleston High School's new gymnasium. Bob Wilson scored the first basket for Whiting's visitors. Bob Wilson (no relation) scored the first basket for Tolleston. Things were simpler after that. Neither Wilson made another basket.

Lausse Favored To Beat Greaves

That punch, plus a current victory streak of 14, has made the South American middleweight champion a 9-5 favorite to beat rugged Wilfie Greaves, the Canadian ruler, in their 10-round television (NBC 10 p.m., EST) fight at Madison Square Garden tonight.

White To Miss Exhibition Tilt With Boston

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The Cleveland Indians' new catcher, Sammy White, could be helpful today when the club plays the Boston Red Sox and seeks to even its exhibition game record at 3-3. But Sammy won't be there to advise Cleveland pitchers about his old teammates.

White, regular catcher for the Bosox the last eight seasons, flew home to Boston Wednesday night, a few hours after the Indians obtained him in a trade for Russ Nixon. White wanted a couple of days off to check on construction of his new bowling alleys there.

"I gave him permission with reluctance," said General Manager Frank Lane.

"He reported to the Red Sox a week late, and he hasn't done much work. He looks too heavy to me."

Thursday the Indians defeated the Chicago Cubs 4-3, thanks largely to the homer clouted by Rocky Colavito in the sixth inning.

It was the Rock's fourth home run in five exhibition clashes. He connected with the Indians a run behind and a man on base. The Cubs now have five straight losses.

Colavito's homer was one of only five hits off Cub pitchers. Norm Cash's double was the only hit off Dick Drott in his first four innings. Later Bubba Phillips tripled and George Strickland and John Temple added singles to the Tribe's weak offensive.

Defensively, the Indians showed strength. Southpaw Dick Stigman and righthanders Ernie Johnson and Al Cicotte hurled scoreless ball after the Cubs batted three runs in the first three innings off Bob Lemon.

Newest Indian, Jim Marshall, 27-year-old first baseman-outfielder acquired with White in Wednesday's trade, is well satisfied.

"I'm the happiest man in baseball," said Marshall, who had been hoping for a chance to play for field boss Joe Gordon.

Detroit Improves Bench, Will Be Stronger In '60

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Detroit lost 15 of its first 17 games last year, then spurted to within half a game of the lead after Jimmy Dykes took over as manager.

Four Tiger pitchers won a total of 65 games. Two Detroit hitters finished one-two in the batting race. Still, they wound up two games under .500 in fourth place, 18 games back.

What happened?

"There was a little item called left on base," said Dykes. "If you look it up you will see we left 1,161 on base. We lost 26 games by one run.

"Injuries killed us. Just when we were hot in June, Al Kaline got hit on the face and broke his cheekbone. Harvey Kuenn ran into a fence in Baltimore and hurt his leg and Frank Bolling was out about a month with an infected foot."

What about this year?

"We're improved in reserves more than anyplace else. If somebody gets hurt we can stick in a fellow who won't hurt us. And we've got a shortstop (Chico Fernandez) with a wider range than Rocky (Bridges).

Dykes' four starting pitchers are Frank Lary (17-10 last year), Don Mossi (17-9), Jim Bunning (17-13) who led the league with 201 strikeouts, and Paul Foytack (14-14).

Either Ray Narleski (4-12) or Ray Semproch (3-10 with the Phils) could be the fifth starter. Either or both could revert to the bullpen which was a sad department last season. Of the newcomers, Bob Bruce (11-13 at Charleston) has impressed Dykes. So has Phil Regan (10-5 at Birmingham). Pete Burnside (1-3), Tom Morgan (1-4), Dave Sisler (1-3) and possibly Hank Aguirre (8-7 at Charleston and still on a minor league roster) will round out the staff.

The outfield, of course, is the heart of the Tiger club. Batting champ Kuenn (.353) will be in right and Al Kaline (.327), the runnerup, will be in center with Charlie Maxwell (.251), in left. Dykes likes what he has seen of Steve Boros (.305 at Birmingham) and George Thomas (.274 at Birmingham). Neil Chrisley (.132) and Johnny Groth (.235) are extras.

At the moment Dykes is counting on Steve Bilko (.305 at Spokane), the hulking first baseman drafted from the Dodger organization for another whirl. Bolling (.266) at second and Eddie Yost (.278) at third are fixtures. The shortstop will be Fernandez (.211) with the Phils) backed up by Bridges (.268). Gail Harris (.200) and Don Osborne (.191) are behind Bilko.

Colavito Belts Fourth Homer As Tribe Wins

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Don't knock The Rock."

That was the battle cry of Colavito fans during Rocky's off-season salary wrangling with Cleveland General Manager Frank Lane. The Indians' GM apparently got the word because Rocky received a salary increase of 25 per cent to $35,000.

But Colavito was reportedly after $40,000 and he grudgingly accepted the lesser amount.

Now it's the Rock whose doing the knockin'. And with the same big bat that hit 42 home runs last year to share the American League crown with Harmon Killebrew of Washington.

At Tucson Thursday Colavito homered for two runs in the sixth inning as the Indians came from behind for a 4-3 spring training victory over the Chicago Cubs.

It was Rocky's fourth homer in five games.

In the other Arizona game, at Scottsdale, the San Francisco Giants scored three times in the eighth to hand the Boston Red Sox their first loss in five spring games, 4-3.

Rain slashed a six-game Florida schedule to two with the Chicago White Sox beating Washington 1-0 at Orlando and Kansas City edging Baltimore 3-2 in 10 innings at Miami.

Money Can't Buy ABC Title

TOLEDO, Ohio. (AP) —For the first time in several years, it begins to look as though money cannot buy the American Bowling Congress team championship.

In the last five years the champions have been richly endowed teams bearing names of major breweries. The Pfeiffers and the Falstaffs each won the title twice since 1954, while Peter Hand Reserve of Chicago claimed it once.

During the first 13 days of the current ABC, the Pfeiffers and Falstaffs have been relegated to the also-rans, along with the Budweisers, a team which has won every major bowling title except the ABC.

Generally regarded as the nation's top teams, this trio gets rich financial backing. Lowest of the three this season were the Pfeiffers which were sponsored to the tune of $65,000.

In contrast to the hefty salaries and lush expense accounts of the three ten-pin giants, current leader of the ABC, Central Welding, receives a modest $2,500 stipend. The Lansing, Mich., quintet knocked down 2995 pins Thursday night in the open division, while the Falstaffs eked out 2812.

Minoso Rejoins Sox

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) —Minnie Minoso rejoined the Chicago White Sox today after a two-day bout with the flu. Al Smith also has had the flu and was told to rest.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

What Happened To Television's Reform?

Mostly, the program schedule is what might be described as quality junk. Well, perhaps junk is too strong a word. There will be an almost uninterrupted flow of bread and butter programs—situation comedy, shoot'em-ups, quizzes. There will be almost no serious programming worth mentioning. Whatever happened to the great reform wave that was supposed to sweep the beach clean?

John Crosby

It's business as usual all over Madison Avenue. The clamor is dying down. The industry is firmly back in the hands of the advertising agencies and the breakfast food companies who sturdily are underestimating everyone's intelligence but their own.

-:-

THE SCHEDULE will be full of darling little husband-and-wife shows in which the children are adorable little monsters. There will be another under-water show. There will be something like 12 more Westerns—just when we thought that madness was dying down. There will not be one single new regular dramatic program of any serious nature.

In an excellent article in the current McCall's magazine, Clare Boothe Luce, an accurate phrasemaker, calls television "Everyman's Scheherazade" and titles her article "Part I—A Thousand Nights of Terror and Violence." There'll be another one this month.

"TODAY THERE ARE 27 Westerns and 20 whodunits on the weekly programs of the major networks," Mrs. Luce writes.

"For a thousand and more nights, from sea to shining sea, their chilling hordes have passed before the eyes of 42½ million American families.

"Among their evil numbers are safe-blowers, brain-blowers, convicts, extortioners, counterfeiters, blackmailers, thugs, gangsters, stool pigeons, hoodlums, savages, cattle rustlers, trigger-happy cowpokes, lynchers, jail-breakers, adventurers, drunks, drug addicts, pushers, pads, panderers, pimps, house-breakers, home-breakers, arsonists, sadists, psychopaths, prostitutes, rapists, maniacs and murderers—all the lice and scum, damned and doomed dregs of humanity, giving an advanced course for young and old in all the techniques of crime and the modes of violence."

IT'S A TERRIFYING list and Mrs. Luce got it by doing what television critics seldom do and network executives and ad agency people never do—that is, look at the bread-and-butter programming—the programming that goes on year in year out, "Restless Gun" the year after, "Gunsmoke" in its 12th year, the old movies in their 30th year.

The Harris committee recommends that fixing quiz programs be made a crime which is like outlawing cattle rustling. It's a good thought but the time for such action is past.

If the Harris committee wants to know what's really wrong with television, it ought to stop interviewing witnesses and look at that monstrous box for a week.

When the uproar for better things was at its height, all the networks hastily promised one long public service program each of which was unabashedly designed as eyewash for the Harris committee.

HOWEVER, the networks now have looked around and decided there is nothing further to fear. Already this little splash of culture is being abandoned hurriedly.

CBS promised an hour-long program of public affairs—either culture or news documentary. This has been watered down to 26 weeks. NBC promised "World Wide 60," a program of high cultural aspiration, and this program is on the air, though its achievements are not up to its aims. ABC went its usual cynical way—making money.

But the general level of programming has been changed not at all. The imbalance of the program structure is getting worse rather than better and next fall there are going to be far fewer specials which gave some respite to the cowboys and gangsters.

It'll be a crying bloody shame if the great quiz and payola scandal is allowed simply to die down, leaving the general program schedule in the hands of the old folks and the 12-year-olds, which is where it is now.

Newell Post Picks 2 Youths To Attend Annual Boys State

Newell American Legion Post 114 met Wednesday evening and selected two juniors of Wells High School to attend the Mountaineers Boys State June 5-11 at Jacksons Mills.

Their names will not be announced until Class Day ceremonies in May. They were selected from a list recommended by H. D. Gregory, principal.

William C. Short of Aliquippa was accepted as a new member. George LaNeve was appointed a delegate to the Memorial Day Committee meeting March 25 in East Liverpool.

It was announced that plans are progressing for the combined American Legion birthday anniversary celebration, the past commanders' banquet and a visit from Bonn Brown of Charleston, department commander, to be held April 8. The dinner will be served by the auxiliary.

The 1st District convention date has been changed to May 22 and a place will be named later. Several letters from Carl Reinhart, 1st District commander, were read concerning membership.

Harry Lytton, finance officer, gave the treasurer's report. Paul Mosher, commander, presided. Next meeting will be April 6.

Second Delay Is Granted In Bribery Trial

NEW PHILADELPHA, Ohio (AP)—Tuscarawas County Common Pleas Court has granted a second and indefinite postponement in the Dover bribery trials. Dover Mayor Clifford C. Froeluch and five alleged Dover gamblers are defendants.

The new delay, the second within as many days, was granted Thursday to Prosecutor James S. Patrick by Judge Frank E. Cope of Carroll County. Judge Cope was here on special assignment.

Patrick filed for permission to try about 16 criminal cases before opening any of the six separate trials on bribery charges. Continuation of the bribery cases was requested to enable Patrick to try George Markos, Dover coin-machine operator, on bribery charges first.

Markos, confined to bed with a heart ailment, had been granted a delay by Judge Cope on Wednesday. His trial was scheduled to start Monday.

Patrick said the 16 criminal trials will start March 28. Several may require three to four days of litigation.

The gambling payoff charges involve Joe Adelstein, Paul Knisely, Fred Berquist and Frank Duda, along with Markos and Mayor Froelich. The mayor is accused of accepting bribes, the others of offering them. The six were indicted in February on seven counts each.

In a bill of particulars filed in the Markos case, Patrick said the offenses involved about $1,500.

'Art' Machine Accomplishes Its Purpose—Destroys Itself

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—A machine whose whole purpose in life was to destroy itself did just that Thursday night in one of the most amusing lunatic shows ever to pass under the name of modern art.

The creature composed of wheels, bathtub, piano, radio, addressograph machine, child's cart and assorted other objects reared up 27 feet high in the garden of the Museum of Modern Art.

While an irate objector outside passed out a leaflet bemoaning the project as godless, an audience of about 500 saw "Homage to New York" rattle, flap, shake, hammer and burn itself to pieces.

It was so successful at self-destruction that the fire department had to train extinguishers on flames eating up the piano too fast. Loyal to art, the audience booed this interference, but the staunch firemen went right ahead.

The object was by the Swiss-born sculptor, Jean Tinguely, a slight, black-haired, smiling and very begrimed fellow who bowed contentedly in response to the warm applause that greeted his novel venture.

Fifteen motors controled by eight timers ran some 80 bicycle wheels of all sizes. Pictures painted themselves frenziedly on paper unwound from revolving disks. A saw worked back and forth on the piano's underpinning. The cart rolled to and fro. Hammers and mallets struck tin cans and oil drums in varying rhythms. A great golden balloon inflated at the peak of the machine. Smoke pots belched forth clouds that choked the onlookers.

It ran half an hour, when with a whoosh one section tumbled sidewise to the ground. Then a second, waving a red and white pennant, ran outside. A third, with a klaxon that didn't work, scooted out from under and dashed for nowhere. A fourth part collapsed.

It did not quite live up to the billing. It was Tinguely in person, with a band of helpers, who put most of it together in the afternoon. But it did paint its own pictures, and it spoke its own pieces, from a record, explaining what it was all about. Some bottles were supposed to crash to the ground and didn't. The balloon was scheduled to burst but failed to. The fire did get out of control and was extinguished at the sculptor's request.

Building Is Damaged In Train Derailment

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A train derailment caused an estimated $40,000 to $50,000 damage to a building here Thursday.

John Taggart, owner of the Taggart Coal & Supply Co., made the estimate shortly after a Detroit, Toledo & Ironton Railroad boxcar became derailed and crashed into the building. Two other cars were derailed.

Officials said a brake assembly apparently broke on one of the cars, throwing the wheels off the tracks. The other cars landed in a ditch. The 82-car train was headed for Cincinnati.

Six persons in the building at the time of the crash were not injured. A salesman, Harold Locher, shouted a warning to the other five persons when something "sounded different" about the train.

Lima Firm Low Bidder

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—H. U. Tuttle & Son, Inc., of Lima, Ohio, was apparent low bidder at $114,962 for construction of an Army Reserve center at St. Marys, Ohio, the U.S. Engineers reported Thursday.

Car Giving Halted

CLEVELAND (AP)—A ruling given the Cleveland Indians last summer that giving automobiles away at baseball games was a lottery and illegal was formalized Thursday by Ralph Locher, city law director, in a letter to the ball club. Locher said he permitted the practice to continue to the end of last season because of commitments the Indians had made for the 1959 promotion.

Wholesalers' Business Hits $40½ Million

Sales of 94 wholesale establishments in Columbiana County totaled $40.5 million in 1958, according to a preliminary area report on business for that year released by the Bureau of Census of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Thirty-three wholesale businesses in East Liverpool had sales of $16.3 million in 1958, while 5 in Wellsville had sales of $2.5 million.

Salem had 17 wholesale establishments with sales of $3.6 million, East Palestine had 4 such firms with sales of $278,000 and the 35 elsewhere in the county had sales of $17.7 million.

There were 67 merchant wholesalers in the county with sales totaling $12.7 million. Merchant wholesalers in East Liverpool totaled 28 with sales of $6.4 million.

The three merchant wholesalers at Wellsville and three at East Palestine did not list sales in order "to avoid disclosure," the report said. Nineteen wholesalers elsewhere in the county had sales totaling $3.8 million.

The total number employed by wholesale establishments throughout the county was 425, with a payroll for the whole year of $1.6 million. The weekly payroll was about $32,730.

There were 225 employed in East Liverpool wholesale businesses for which the annual payroll was $876,000, or about $16,941.

Cars To Replace Motorcycles For Cincinnati Police

CINCINNATI (AP)—The motorcycle patrolman is about to join the mounted policeman as history in the Cincinnati Police Department.

The first motorcycle patrol here started back in 1913 and the two-wheelers eventually replaced about 200 horses of a mounted corps.

Schrotel said motorcycles cost almost as much as cars and wear out in one-third the time. They are idled by bad weather or by illness and absence of their operators.

The department also pays $5.32 each week in extra pay to the 12 cyclists.

Schrotel said motorcycles can't cope any more with speeders on the city's high speed, limited access expressway system.

Youth, 18, Killed In Highway Accident

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Larry Scammahorn, 18, of Rt. 2, Tipp City, was injured fatally early today when his auto crashed on Frederick Road in northeast Montgomery County. He died in Good Samaritan Hospital here, where a companion, Roger Mote, 18, was admitted with lacerations.

The Highway Patrol said Scammahorn was driving when the car hit a slick spot and skidded into a wooden utility pole, breaking it off. The car flipped, then spun back onto the road on its top. Cammahorn was pinned inside. Mote, who was thrown from the auto, summoned the patrol from a nearby home.

Committee To Study U.S., State Regulations

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A three - member committee will meet next week to look for gaps between federal and state regulation of chemicals and other materials potentially dangerous to human, plant and animal life. Members of the committee are Agriculture Director Robert H. Terhune, Natural Resources Director Herbert B. Eagon and Health Director Ralph E. Dwork.

They will study situations that occur when substances designed for one purpose, such as bug control, create additional results such as contamination of food or water supplies.

Open Health Fund Drive

CLEVELAND (AP) — Twenty thousand volunteer solicitors have opened a campaign to collect $571,600 in contributions by March 27 for the city's first combined Health Fund drive. Five separate health agencies are included.

Potters' Craft Display Slated At Union Show

A working exhibit showing the crastmen's skills that go into the production of dinnerware will be entered by the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters in the annual AFL-CIO Union Industries Show, which opens May 6 in the District of Columbia National Guard Armory in Washington.

The potters' exhibit will be one of 300 designed to show the public the skills, services and craftsmanship of union workers. The show has been held annually since 1938, except for an interruption during World War II.

The potters' part in the show always has been one of the top attractions, as it affords the public a rare opportunity to see dinnerware production first-hand.

Pottery manufacturers are cooperating with the Brotherhood in the show. They will donate dinner sets and novelty patterns to be given away at the IBOP exhibit.

Supervising the potters' exhibit will be Clyde Jones of Alliance, eighth vice president; Leonard Greco of Beaver Falls, seventh vice president, and George Barbaree, fourth vice president. They will explain the story of the union potter and encourage purchase of union-made ware.

Named Democrat Aide

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Paul McDonough of Mount Vernon has been appointed the new fulltime assistant of Democratic State Chairman William L. Coleman. McDonough, who said he will assist Coleman until after the May 3 primary election, is Knox County Democratic chairman and a member of the party's state committee.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

What Happened To Television's Reform?

Mostly, the program schedule is what might be described as quality junk. Well, perhaps junk is too strong a word. There will be an almost uninterrupted flow of bread and butter programs—situation comedy, shoot'em-ups, quizzes. There will be almost no serious programming worth mentioning. Whatever happened to the great reform wave that was supposed to sweep the beach clean?

John Crosby

It's business as usual all over Madison Avenue. The clamor is dying down. The industry is firmly back in the hands of the advertising agencies and the breakfast food companies who sturdily are underestimating everyone's intelligence but their own.

-:-

THE SCHEDULE will be full of darling little husband-and-wife shows in which the children are adorable little monsters. There will be another under-water show. There will be something like 12 more Westerns—just when we thought that madness was dying down. There will not be one single new regular dramatic program of any serious nature.

In an excellent article in the current McCall's magazine, Clare Boothe Luce, an accurate phrasemaker, calls television "Everyman's Scheherazade" and titles her article "Part I—A Thousand Nights of Terror and Violence." There'll be another one this month.

"TODAY THERE ARE 27 Westerns and 20 whodunits on the weekly programs of the major networks," Mrs. Luce writes.

"For a thousand and more nights, from sea to shining sea, their chilling hordes have passed before the eyes of 42½ million American families.

"Among their evil numbers are safe-blowers, brain-blowers, convicts, extortioners, counterfeiters, blackmailers, thugs, gangsters, stool pigeons, hoodlums, savages, cattle rustlers, trigger-happy cowpokes, lynchers, jail-breakers, adventurers, drunks, drug addicts, pushers, pads, panderers, pimps, house-breakers, home-breakers, arsonists, sadists, psychopaths, prostitutes, rapists, maniacs and murderers—all the lice and scum, damned and doomed dregs of humanity, giving an advanced course for young and old in all the techniques of crime and the modes of violence."

IT'S A TERRIFYING list and Mrs. Luce got it by doing what television critics seldom do and network executives and ad agency people never do—that is, look at the bread-and-butter programming—the programming that goes on year in year out, "Restless Gun" the year after, "Gunsmoke" in its 12th year, the old movies in their 20th year.

The Harris committee recommends that fixing quiz programs be made a crime which is like outlawing cattle rustling. It's a good thought but the time for such action is past.

If the Harris committee wants to know what's really wrong with television, it ought to stop interviewing witnesses and look at that monstrous box for a week.

When the uproar for better things was at its height, all the networks hastily promised one long public service program each of which was unabashedly designed as eyewash for the Harris committee.

HOWEVER, the networks now have looked around and decided there is nothing further to fear. Already this little splash of culture is being abandoned hurriedly.

CBS promised an hour-long program of public affairs—either culture or news documentary. This has been watered down to 26 weeks. NBC promised "World Wide 60," a program of high cultural aspiration, and this program is on the air, though its achievements are not up to its aims. ABC went its usual cynical way—making money.

But the general level of programming has been changed not at all. The imbalance of the program structure is getting worse rather than better and next fall there are going to be far fewer specials which gave some respite to the cowboys and gangsters.

It'll be a crying bloody shame if the great quiz and payola scandal is allowed simply to die down, leaving the general program schedule in the hands of the old folks and the 12-year-olds, which is where it is now.

Newell Post Picks 2 Youths To Attend Annual Boys State

Newell American Legion Post 114 met Wednesday evening and selected two juniors of Wells High School to attend the Mountaineers Boys State June 5-11 at Jacksons Mills.

Their names will not be announced until Class Day ceremonies in May. They were selected from a list recommended by H. D. Gregory, principal.

William C. Short of Aliquippa was accepted as a new member. George LaNeve was appointed a delegate to the Memorial Day Committee meeting March 25 in East Liverpool.

It was announced that plans are progressing for the combined American Legion birthday anniversary celebration, the past commanders' banquet and a visit from Bona Brown of Charleston, department commander, to be held April 8. The dinner will be served by the auxiliary.

The 1st District convention date has been changed to May 22 and a place will be named later. Several letters from Carl Reinhart, 1st District commander, were read concerning membership.

Harry Lytton, finance officer, gave the treasurer's report. Paul Mosher, commander, presided. Next meeting will be April 6.

Second Delay Is Granted In Bribery Trial

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Ohio (AP)—Tuscarawas County Common Pleas Court has granted a second and indefinite postponement in the Dover bribery trials. Dover Mayor Clifford C. Froeluch and five alleged Dover gamblers are defendants.

The new delay, the second within as many days, was granted Thursday to Prosecutor James S. Patrick by Judge Frank E. Cope of Carroll County. Judge Cope was here on special assignment.

Patrick filed for permission to try about 16 criminal cases before opening any of the six separate trials on bribery charges. Continuation of the bribery cases was requested to enable Patrick to try George Markos, Dover coin-machine operator, on bribery charges first.

Markos, confined to bed with a heart ailment, had been granted a delay by Judge Cope on Wednesday. His trial was scheduled to start Monday.

Patrick said the 16 criminal trials will start March 28. Several may require three to four days of litigation.

The gambling payoff charges involve Joe Adelstein, Paul Knisely, Fred Berquist and Frank Duda, along with Markos and Mayor Froelich. The mayor is accused of accepting bribes, the others of offering them. The six were indicted in February on seven counts each.

In a bill of particulars filed in the Markos case, Patrick said the offenses involved about $1,500.

'Art' Machine Accomplishes Its Purpose—Destroys Itself

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—A machine whose whole purpose in life was to destroy itself did just that Thursday night in one of the most amusing lunatic shows ever to pass under the name of modern art.

The creature composed of wheels, bathtub, piano, radio, addressograph machine, child's cart and assorted other objects reared up 27 feet high in the garden of the Museum of Modern Art.

While an irate objector outside passed out a leaflet bemoaning the project as godless, an audience of about 500 saw "Homage to New York" rattle, flap, shake, hammer and burn itself to pieces.

It was so successful at self-destruction that the fire department had to train extinguishers on flames eating up the piano too fast. Loyal to art, the audience booed this interference, but the staunch firemen went right ahead.

The object was by the Swiss-born sculptor, Jean Tinguely, a slight, black-haired, smiling and very begrimed fellow who bowed contentedly in response to the warm applause that greeted his novel venture.

Fifteen motors controled by eight timers ran some 80 bicycle wheels of all sizes. Pictures painted themselves frenziedly on paper unwound from revolving disks. A saw worked back and forth on the piano's underpinning. The cart rolled to and fro. Hammers and mallets struck tin cans and oil drums in varying rhythms. A great golden balloon inflated at the peak of the machine. Smoke pots belched forth clouds that choked the onlookers.

It ran half an hour, when with a whoosh one section tumbled sidewise to the ground. Then a second, waving a red and white pennant, ran outside. A third, with a klaxon that didn't work, scooted out from under and dashed for nowhere. A fourth part collapsed.

It did not quite live up to the billing. It was Tinguely in person, with a band of helpers, who put most of it together in the afternoon. But it did paint its own pictures, and it spoke its own pieces, from a record, explaining what it was all about. Some bottles were supposed to crash to the ground and didn't. The balloon was scheduled to burst but failed to. The fire did get out of control and was extinguished at the sculptor's request.

Building Is Damaged In Train Derailment

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A train derailment caused an estimated $40,000 to $50,000 damage to a building here Thursday.

John Taggart, owner of the Taggart Coal & Supply Co., made the estimate shortly after a Detroit, Toledo & Ironton Railroad boxcar became derailed and crashed into the building. Two other cars were derailed.

Officials said a brake assembly apparently broke on one of the cars, throwing the wheels off the tracks. The other cars landed in a ditch. The 82-car train was headed for Cincinnati.

Six persons in the building at the time of the crash were not injured. A salesman, Harold Locher, shouted a warning to the other five persons when something "sounded different" about the train.

Lima Firm Low Bidder

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—H. U. Tuttle & Son, Inc., of Lima, Ohio, was apparent low bidder at $114,962 for construction of an Army Reserve center at St. Marys, Ohio, the U.S. Engineers reported Thursday.

Car Giving Halted

CLEVELAND (AP)—A ruling given the Cleveland Indians last summer that giving automobiles away at baseball games was a lottery and illegal was formalized Thursday by Ralph Locher, city law director, in a letter to the ball club. Locher said he permitted the practice to continue to the end of last season because of commitments the Indians had made for the 1959 promotion.

Wholesalers' Business Hits $40½ Million

Sales of 94 wholesale establishments in Columbiana County totaled $40.5 million in 1958, according to a preliminary area report on business for that year released by the Bureau of Census of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Thirty-three wholesale businesses in East Liverpool had sales of $16.3 million in 1958, while 5 in Wellsville had sales of $2.5 million.

Salem had 17 wholesale establishments with sales of $3.6 million, East Palestine had 4 such firms with sales of $278,000 and the 35 elsewhere in the county had sales of $17.7 million.

There were 67 merchant wholesalers in the county with sales totaling $12.7 million. Merchant wholesalers in East Liverpool totaled 28 with sales of $6.4 million.

The three merchant wholesalers at Wellsville and three at East Palestine did not list sales in order "to avoid disclosure," the report said. Nineteen wholesalers elsewhere in the county had sales totaling $3.8 million.

The total number employed by wholesale establishments throughout the county was 425, with a payroll for the whole year of $1.6 million. The weekly payroll was about $32,730.

There were 225 employed in East Liverpool wholesale businesses for which the annual payroll was $876,000, or about $16,941.

Cars To Replace Motorcycles For Cincinnati Police

CINCINNATI (AP)—The motorcycle patrolman is about to join the mounted policeman as history in the Cincinnati Police Department.

The first motorcycle patrol here started back in 1913 and the two-wheelers eventually replaced about 200 horses of a mounted corps.

Schrotel said motorcycles cost almost as much as cars and wear out in one-third the time. They are idled by bad weather or by illness and absence of their operators.

The department also pays $5.32 each week in extra pay to the 12 cyclists.

Schrotel said motorcycles can't cope any more with speeders on the city's high speed, limited access expressway system.

Youth, 18, Killed In Highway Accident

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Larry Scammahorn, 18, of Rt. 2, Tipp City, was injured fatally early today when his auto crashed on Frederick Road in northeast Montgomery County. He died in Good Samaritan Hospital here, where a companion, Roger Mote, 18, was admitted with lacerations.

The Highway Patrol said Scammahorn was driving when the car hit a slick spot and skidded into a wooden utility pole, breaking it off. The car flipped, then spun back onto the road on its top. Cammahorn was pinned inside. Mote, who was thrown from the auto, summoned the patrol from a nearby home.

Committee To Study U.S., State Regulations

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A three - member committee will meet next week to look for gaps between federal and state regulation of chemicals and other materials potentially dangerous to human, plant and animal life. Members of the committee are Agriculture Director Robert H. Terhune, Natural Resources Director Herbert B. Eagon and Health Director Ralph E. Dwork.

They will study situations that occur when substances designed for one purpose, such as bug control, create additional results such as contamination of food or water supplies.

Open Health Fund Drive

CLEVELAND (AP) — Twenty thousand volunteer solicitors have opened a campaign to collect $371,600 in contributions by March 27 for the city's first combined Health Fund drive. Five separate health agencies are included.

Potters' Craft Display Slated At Union Show

A working exhibit showing the crastmen's skills that go into the production of dinnerware will be entered by the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters in the annual AFL-CIO Union Industries Show, which opens May 6 in the District of Columbia National Guard Armory in Washington.

The potters' exhibit will be one of 300 designed to show the public the skills, services and craftsmanship of union workers. The show has been held annually since 1938, except for an interruption during World War II.

The potters' part in the show always has been one of the top attractions, as it affords the public a rare opportunity to see dinnerware production first-hand.

Pottery manufacturers are cooperating with the Brotherhood in the show. They will donate dinner sets and novelty patterns to be given away at the IBOP exhibit.

Supervising the potters' exhibit will be Clyde Jones of Alliance, eighth vice president; Leonard Greco of Beaver Falls, seventh vice president, and George Barbaree, fourth vice president. They will explain the story of the union potter and encourage purchase of union-made ware.

Named Democrat Aide

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Paul McDonough of Mount Vernon has been appointed the new fulltime assistant of Democratic State Chairman William L. Coleman. McDonough, who said he will assist Coleman until after the May 3 primary election, is Knox County Democratic chairman and a member of the party's state committee.

Bandit Gets 'Shot' Then Gives Bad Check

He shows up at a doctor's office, complains of a cold, and asks for a shot of penicillin.

After it's administered, the patient presents a $10 check neatly made out to him by his "wife." The bill, with the shot, is $5 or $6, and the man pockets the change. Only trouble is, the check is worthless.

Young Catcher Can Help Reds

John Edwards is 21, a catcher, bats left-handed and throws right. quarters of study for a degree in ceramic engineering from Ohio State University. He swatted at a .320 clip and had close to 100 RBI for the Reds' Class C California League club last year.

"I consider him an outstanding prospect," said Gabe Paul, Reds' general manager who said the club had to shell out a fancy bonus for Edwards.

Coach Marty Karow of Ohio State said, "This Edwrrds has a lot of possibilities. He can do a lot more things than Frank Howard (an OSU slugger now with Los Angeles).

"He doesn't have Frank's power but he's much faster and will learn to hit consistently. His arm is as good as any I've ever seen."

But don't expect to see Edwards at Crosley Field this season. He doesn't want to make the move any more than the Reds' brass do.

"I signed the contract for two reasons," Edwards said. "First, the old bonus rule is out, the one that would have required the Reds to keep me on the major league roster. In the long run, it might hurt me.

"Second, I couldn't afford to turn down the money."

Liquor Changes Due

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Changes in brands of liquor handled in state stores will be made public, says Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. Liquor Director Richard C. Crouch was to submit a list at today's cabinet meeting of all brands added or dropped since he became head of the department, and future changes will be announced as they are made. DiSalle said this policy was adopted because of criticism of department handling of liquor brand changes.

100 Hear Judge Tobin At Palestine Meeting

EAST PALESTINE — About 100 attended a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Organization Wednesday night at which Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin of East Liverpool was speaker.

Judge Tobin spoke on parental neglect in the county and displayed pictures of a number of homes from which children were taken because of improper family conditions. He was accompanied by Atty. Warren Bettis, assistant county prosecutor.

Atty. Jack Cohen presided.

Ambassador is the highest position in diplomatic service.

Kelley Named To Cage Post At Marietta

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — Donald G. Kelley, former Ohio State University cage captain, was named head basketball coach at Marietta College today.

Kelley replaces veteran William O. (Bill) Whetsell, the oldest active coach in the Ohio Conference and Ohio's basketball "coach of the year" in 1954. Whetsell resigned to devote full attention to his duties as the school's athletic director.

Kelley, who will be 26 next month, steps up after serving one season as an assistant to Whetsell. He was also an assistant football coach and will assist with baseball this spring.

A native of Cardington, Ohio, Kelley played three years of basketball and baseball at Ohio State.

For two years after graduation, Kelley played professional baseball in the Cleveland Indians farm system, in the Three-I and Eastern Leagues. Prior to joining the Marietta staff, he was head basketball coach at Celina High School.

Whetsell has been head coach at Marietta since 1947. He led his squad through two unbeaten Ohio Conference campaigns, 1953-54 and 1954-55. His over-all record is 149 wins against 117 losses.

Cleveland Police Shoot Young Man

CLEVELAND (AP) — A young man was shot by police early today after he threw a meat cleaver at two officers who surprised him as he was trying to break into a cigarette machine at a restaurant.

Detective David Higgins and Patrolman Walter Phillips were investigating a break in at a snack shop when a passerby told them he saw a burglar in the nearby restaurant.

Higgins said the young man threw the cleaver through a window at the officers as they started to enter the restaurant, but missed them. He then dashed out of the restaurant but was wounded by Higgins.

Elkrun Grange To Give Lisbon Unit Program

LISBON — Elkrun Grange will present the traveling flag, the 1960 Pomona exchange project, and the lecture program at the meeting of the Lisbon Grange tonight at 8 in the Grange Hall.

James Crowell, master, will preside and lunch will be served.

Motorist Forfeits

LISBON — Raymond F. Eltringham, 25, of Follansbee forfeited $20 bond Thursday in County Judge James L. MacDonald's court on a charge of passing on the crest of a hill. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of our dear dad, KENNETH McGAFFICK, who slept away one year ago today, March 18, 1959:
He bade none a last farewell, He said goodby to none. The heavenly gates had opened, A lovely voice said, "Come"! And with farewell unspoken, He gently entered home. Our dear daddy sleeps in silence, We'd not disturb his rest; Sad and lonely are the hearts of those who loved him best.

3 CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks for the comforting sympathy, flowers, those who donated cars and helped in any way. Special thanks to Rev. Flurkey, Rev. Steele, Dr. Fisher, the Pallbearers and the Turley Funeral Home, during the sudden death of my husband, MATT McKENNA.
Wife — Allie (Pinky) McKenna

WE wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to all the kind friends, relatives, and neighbors whose expressions of sympahty meant so much to us upon the death of our beloved mother, MARY MAY HERRINGTON. Mrs. Raymond Byers, Mrs. Marshal Morgan, Mrs. William Emmerling Sr.

Bandit Gets 'Shot' Then Gives Bad Check

He shows up at a doctor's office, complains of a cold, and asks for a shot of penicillin.

The bill, with the shot, is $5 or $6, and the man pockets the change. Only trouble is, the check is worthless.

Young Catcher Can Help Reds

After rain washed out an exhibition game against Pittsburgh Thursday, the young newcomer was about the only novelty in the Reds' training camp.

John Edwards is 21, a catcher, bats left-handed and throws right. quarters of study for a degree in ceramic engineering from Ohio State University. He swatted at a .320 clip and had close to 100 RBI for the Reds' Class C California League club last year.

"I consider him an outstanding prospect," said Gabe Paul, Reds' general manager who said the club had to shell out a fancy bonus for Edwards.

Coach Marty Karow of Ohio State said, "This Edwrrds has a lot of possibilities. He can do a lot more things than Frank Howard (an OSU slugger now with Los Angeles).

"He doesn't have Frank's power but he's much faster and will learn to hit consistently. His arm is as good as any I've ever seen."

But don't expect to see Edwards at Crosley Field this season. He doesn't want to make the move any more than the Reds' brass do.

"I signed the contract for two reasons," Edwards said. "First, the old bonus rule is out, the one that would have required the Reds to keep me on the major league roster. In the long run, it might hurt me.

"Second, I couldn't afford to turn down the money."

Liquor Changes Due

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Changes in brands of liquor handled in state stores will be made public, says Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. Liquor Director Richard C. Crouch was to submit a list at today's cabinet meeting of all brands added or dropped since he became head of the department, and future changes will be announced as they are made. DiSalle said this policy was adopted because of criticism of department handling of liquor brand changes.

Crucible Aide Named

Thomas M. Flanaghan has been appointed staff advisor of personnel services at the Crucible Steel Co. of America at Pittsburgh. Formerly personnel director at the Callery Chemical Co., he will provide general staff services in personnel planning, analysis, reporting and control in the new position.

100 Hear Judge Tobin At Palestine Meeting

EAST PALESTINE — About 100 attended a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Organization Wednesday night at which Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin of East Liverpool was speaker.

Judge Tobin spoke on parental neglect in the county and displayed pictures of a number of homes from which children were taken because of improper family conditions. He was accompanied by Atty. Warren Bettis, assistant county prosecutor. Atty. Jack Cohen presided.

Ambassador is the highest position in diplomatic service.

Kelley Named To Cage Post At Marietta

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — Donald G. Kelley, former Ohio State University cage captain, was named head basketball coach at Marietta College today.

Kelley replaces veteran William O. (Bill) Whetsell, the oldest active coach in the Ohio Conference and Ohio's basketball "coach of the year" in 1954. Whetsell resigned to devote full attention to his duties as the school's athletic director.

Kelley, who will be 26 next month, steps up after serving one season as an assistant to Whetsell. He was also an assistant football coach and will assist with baseball this spring.

A native of Cardington, Ohio, Kelley played three years of basketball and baseball at Ohio State.

For two years after graduation, Kelley played professional baseball in the Cleveland Indians farm system, in the Three-I and Eastern Leagues. Prior to joining the Marietta staff, he was head basketball coach at Celina High School.

Whetsell has been head coach at Marietta since 1947. He led his squad through two unbeaten Ohio Conference campaigns, 1953-54 and 1954-55. His over-all record is 149 wins against 117 losses.

Cleveland Police Shoot Young Man

CLEVELAND (AP) — A young man was shot by police early today after he threw a meat cleaver at two officers who surprised him as he was trying to break into a cigarette machine at a restaurant.

Detective David Higgins and Patrolman Walter Phillips were investigating a break in at a snack shop when a passerby told them he saw a burglar in the nearby restaurant.

Higgins said the young man threw the cleaver through a window at the officers as they started to enter the restaurant, but missed them. He then dashed out of the restaurant but was wounded by Higgins.

Elkrun Grange To Give Lisbon Unit Program

LISBON — Elkrun Grange will present the traveling flag, the 1960 Pomona exchange project, and the lecture program at the meeting of the Lisbon Grange tonight at 8 in the Grange Hall.

James Crowell, master, will preside and lunch will be served.

Motorist Forfeits

LISBON — Raymond F. Eltringham, 25, of Follansbee forfeited $20 bond Thursday in County Judge James L. MacDonald's court on a charge of passing on the crest of a hill. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of our dear dad, KENNETH McGAFFICK, who slept away one year ago today, March 18, 1959:
He bade none a last farewell, He said goodby to none. The heavenly gates had opened, A lovely voice said, "Come"! And with farewell unspoken, He gently entered home. Our dear daddy sleeps in silence, We'd not disturb his rest; Sad and lonely are the hearts of those who loved him best.

3 CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks for the comforting sympathy, flowers, those who donated cars and helped in any way. Special thanks to Rev. Flurkey, Rev. Steele, Dr. Fisher, the Pallbearers and the Turley Funeral Home, during the sudden death of my husband, MATT McKENNA.
Wife — Allie (Pinky) McKenna

WE wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to all the kind friends, relatives, and neighbors whose expressions of sympathy meant so much to us upon the death of our beloved mother, MARY MAY HERRINGTON. Mrs. Raymond Byers, Mrs. Marshal Morgan, Mrs. William Emmerling Sr.

1739 MONTANA AVE., PLEASANT HTS.—Here is a very attractive little story and a half home with a full basement, double lot garage, gas furnace, city water and sewer and 2 bedrooms downstairs and a finished upstairs. A nice quiet street and priced right. $13,000.00

717 BANK ST.—$14,800.00 will buy this 3 bedroom brick home. The downstairs is newly carpeted, a new gas hot-water furnace, large lot, close to town, all large rooms, and a full basement on a large landscaped lot. Where can you get more for less.

984 PENNSYLVANIA AVE. — A completely remodeled home from top to bottom. A new bath, kitchen, floors, and all you could dream of. The owner is out of town and needs his equity to buy another home. Good oak siding, and in very good condition throughout. $9,000.00

We have a beautiful 1½ story home on OHIO AVE. overlooking the Ohio River, that is sure to please you. There is a large livingroom, kitchen, 1 bedroom and bath downstairs, and 2 smaller bedrooms upstairs. The home is on a corner lot with a new 2 car garage, and very good hot-water heating system plus a beautiful view and a good location. This all totals up to be a REAL BARGAIN at the reduced price of $12,900.00

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I started to read your column for laughs. Now, three years later, I find myself turning to you for advice.

A young girl came to work in this office a year ago. She's a beautiful little doll, sweet and refined and everyone loves her. I should tell you she's 21. I am 30.

Last week she came to work looking sick and pale. She fainted at her desk. I drove her home. She sobbed out the story that she's pregnant, can't work much longer and doesn't know what to do.

The man responsible posed as a single fellow. He is married. The heel gave her a check for $1,000 to "get lost" which she tore up and threw in his face.

I'm seriously considering asking her to marry me. Is this too crazy for words or do you think it could work out?—THIN MAN.

Dear Thin: You sound like a jewel and a gem and I hope you won't make the mistake of marrying a girl out of pity.

You fail to say one word about your feelings toward her or hers for you. Unless you honestly believe the relationship has seeds that could flower into mutual love and respect, the marriage would be doomed. You'd do yourself (and her) a greater service by steering the girl to an agency which would see her through the difficult months ahead and arrange for adoption.

Unfair To Wives

Dear Ann: Why are wives always blamed when the marriage fails? I'm sick of articles on "How To Keep Your Man Happy."

The articles say a woman shouldn't bore her husband with things that happen in the house or with the kids. Why not? It's HIS house, too—and they're HIS kids. He should be interested.

A woman is supposed to cater to a man's every whim but let her ask him to fix the doorknob and he's too tired. She's supposed to flatter his ego and treat him like a little boy or he might run to some other woman who will.

If the average husband said to his wife, "Honey, I love you," she'd probably faint from the shock. After the honeymoon most husbands forget to open doors, use awful table manners and they stop doing all the little nice things that made them attractive during courtship.

You'll probably never print this because you always side with the men but I feel better already.—THE WIFE.

Domestic Dictator

Dear Ann: I am one of four daughters. We are all married and have nice homes and families. My mother and dad are both in their 70s and in poor health. My sisters take turns having the folks for a few months at a time. My husband put his foot down and refuses to let the folks stay with us.

I feel guilty because I'm not able to do my share. My sisters never have criticized me openly but I know they must be saying and thinking plenty.

My husband is a very obstinate person and there's no changing his mind. He's a good husband and father, has no bad habits, and we get along fine—except for this one thing. Please tell me what to do.—R.S.V.P.

Dear R.: You're living under a family dictatorship. My condolences. You should insist that you contribute financially to your parents to compensate for not being able to take them into your home.

Visit them often and relieve your sisters by sitting with the folks, baking and cooking what you can and being helpful in general.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Repository, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Diet Pattern Helped Young Mother

"Once I made up my mind, I decided that this was it and I was going to reduce. After I started reducing and became enthusiastic about slimming down, I wasn't really hungry. I know now that much of overeating is mentally induced." These comments were made by the young mother who used to consume 8,000 or more calories in a single day. She has now reduced from 297 to 182 pounds in a period of a bit over a year—during which time she gave birth to a 7½ pound, healthy baby girl.

By Ida Jean Kain

Pregnancy is a period of growth and the diet must furnish sufficient protein and calcium as well as the other protective essentials to cover the increased requirements.

Breakfast

Luncheon

Ground round steak - broiled; (fat trimmed off before grinding) serving: ¼ lb., cooked weight; vegetable: 1 cup serving; choice of asparagus, broccoli, cauliflower, sauerkraut, spinach, string beans, summer squash, tomatoes or turnips; mixed green salad or - tomato & lettuce (low calorie dressing), glass of skim milk.

Dinner

Choice of lamb chop, chicken or cube steak - broiled; vegetable, 1 cup serving; cottage cheese — ½ cup with slice of pineapple or other fruit; glass of Skim Milk.

The diet was supplemented with a vitamin concentrate. No salt was used. With canned fruits, syrup was washed off. This diet adds up to 1,000 calories a day and furnishes 90 grams of protein. Our dieter, still on the same food pattern, commented:

"I truly enjoy my diet. I eat three modest, but adequate meals a day. I sit down to eat every meal. At dinnertime, I often light candles. I serve my diet meals attractively.

"I now enjoy the children . . . love to keep my house clean, and take more interest in cooking now than I ever did."

—:—

THIS YOUNG mother who has changed her whole outlook concluded the interview with, "I couldn't be happier!"

Send a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope for the "Mr. And Mrs. Reducing Plan" to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Note to overweight expectant mothers: During this important period enough calories should be included to allow the protein in the diet to be used for the building of new tissues. Follow your own doctor's advice regarding your diet.

Wheeling Native Is Recipient Of Service Medal

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — A Wheeling native who began an illustrious engineering career as an apprentice with National Tube Co. in 1911 received the West Virginia Distinguished Service Medal at a luncheon here today.

The presentation to James Howard (Dutch) Kindelberger, chairman of the board of North American Aviation, Inc., was by West Virginia Gov. Cecil H. Underwood, in California for a week-long tour of aircraft and other industries.

Underwood has been hammering at the potential he has insisted his state offers for development of defense and related plants. He has been trying for more than two years to interest the aircraft industry in West Virginia.

The medal was awarded to Kindelberger, who will be 65 on May 8, for "his contributions to the war effort during World War II and for his noteworthy achievements in the field of military aviation during the past 35 years."

Humphrey, Kennedy Push For Support In Wisconsin

They are driving for support in the state's presidential primary, April 5.

They mush through the slash on Main street, shaking hands. they go out at dawn to the factory gate. They call press conferences at the drop of a development. Their urgent voices vibrate over TV and radio, pursuing people across snowy fields and silent forests.

But they don't seem to see the coming election in the same light.

Humphrey of Minnesota tends to down-grade the importance of it. He says the April 5 vote is just another primary.

Kennedy, of Massachusetts, on the other hand, says "This is it." Or he may use the terms, "make-or-break," and "the significant primary," in his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Why this difference of view?

It may be because Kennedy and his backers are confident of victory. Politicians seldom say "this is it" if they have much doubt about an election result.

Humphrey's aides, by contrast, tend to be cautious. They say he has "a good chance," that he is "coming up fast now," but is probably still behind Kennedy at this stage of the campaign.

The opinion that Kennedy is well in front, at this point, is widely held among political observers in Wisconsin—Republicans as well as Democrats, independents and those who are still yearning and hoping to be able to vote for Adlai E. Stevenson.

One highly placed Democrat, who asked not be identified, said he expects Kennedy to sweep the boards, winning all 60 delegates with their 30 convention votes.

The majority of analysts, however, believe Kennedy will take seven districts and all the at-large delegates. This would give him 22½ of Wisconsin's total delegate vote.

AFL-CIO leaders in Milwaukee formed a Humphrey-for-President Club weeks ago.

But in the Kennedy headquarters, they will show you petitions for Kennedy bearing thousands of signatures from Local 72, United Automobile Workers.

As for the farmers—

The farm vote is estimated at between 15 and 18 per cent of the total vote.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average 8 to 9 degrees below normal. Normal high 46 north to 51 south, normal low 28-32. Only minor daily temperature changes. Precipitation will total about one-half inch in snow or flurries about Saturday or Sunday and again about Monday or Tuesday.

West Virginia Bares Liquor Price Boosts

CHARLESTON (AP) — Effective March 31, the price of wine will go up 15 cents a bottle at state liquor stores. Each bottle of gin, vodka and whisky — be it a quart, fifth or pin — will be increased 10 cents.

Liquor Control Commissioner Morris C. Shawkey outlined the price boosts today to comply with a 1960 legislative act tailored to provide $1,750,000 more a year for a temporary state economic program.

"The department," Shawkey said, "has pursued the delicate, grim and arduous task of implementing the directives of Senate Bill No. 23 with dual objectives being paramount." He added:

"One of its eyes has been cocked on the Ohio price list, and the other eye has been searching for the most painless equation by which to raise the $1,750,000 in additional revenue.

"The average profits from the sales of alcoholic beverages during the past three fiscal years, the measurement which was dictated by the Legislature, amounted to $8,601,605.19.

"Adding $1,750,000 in new revenue to this item elevates the profit to a figure totaling $10,351,605.19. Harvesting such a mountain of money is indeed a formidable job.

Department statistics show that calendar 1959 sales by state stores and agencies included 267,432 fifths of gin; 250,416 fifths of vodka; 4,263,702 bottles of wine; 3,192,083 fifths and quarts of whiskey, and 6,919,144 pints of whisky, gin and vodka.

Negro Demonstrators Carry On Lunch Counter Sit-Down

By The Associated Press

Negro sit-down demonstrators continued to troop through the jails and courts of the South today but showed no signs of forsaking the lunch counter battlefront.

Negro spectators marched straight from the trial of five demonstrators at Little Rock, Ark., to enter downtown stores in a new series of protests against segregation.

In two other cities swift police action averted near riots, but not before blows were struck in one incident.

Hundreds of whites and Negroes stood on opposite sides of a Savannah, Ga., street and hurled insults at each other during a St. Patrick's Day parade. But police dispersed the jeering mob before any blows could be struck.

There were new arrests at New Bern, N.C., where 29 Negroes were jailed on trespassing charges and released under $25 bonds after refusing to leave lunch counters at two stores.

The Little Rock demonstrators were not arrested. Managers of the five stores invaded closed their lunch counters and the Negroes left. The five tried in municipal court for a demonstration a week ago drew $250 fines and 30-day jail sentences. Their attorney said there would be an appeal.

Hundreds of whites and Negroes stood on opposite sides of a Savannah, Ga., street and hurled insults at each other during a St. Patrick's Day parade. But police dispersed the jeering mob before any blows could be struck.

There were new arrests at New Bern, N.C., where 29 Negroes were jailed on trespassing charges and released under $25 bonds after refusing to leave lunch counters at two stores.

The Little Rock demonstrators were not arrested. Managers of the five stores invaded closed their lunch counters and the Negroes left. The five tried in municipal court for a demonstration a week ago drew $250 fines and 30-day jail sentences. Their attorney said there would be an appeal.
